Launching then into a discussion of the tariff, Watson, in one of the few speeches he has made in the new wrangle over the bill, asserted that "the sole object of the tariff is to maintain the American wage scale and I sometimes think we have lost sight of that."

"That is the philosophy of the tariff," he added. "The sole object is to maintain the maintenance of the American wage scale, from top to bottom and

Sentenced Burglar Escapes Jail But Is Recaptured

BOY HURT IN CHASE DIES IN HOSPITAL

Youth Sentenced to Prison Makes Getaway but Is Hunted Down by Posse

Wautoma.—(P)—Shortly after the death of 8-year-old Vernon Jeffers, whose injury he had indirectly caused, Hugh Logan, 19, Minneapolis, was captured for the third time at Richford, Wis., 11 miles from here today. He had escaped from jail a few hours before. He was prodded out of a hay-mow with a pitchfork in the hands of a member of the posse that had chased him down three times since Saturday night.

Logan, sentenced to prison Monday for a series of burglaries Saturday night, pushed Sheriff Fred Schultz up stairs in the jail last night, jumped over the official and fled into the fog.

Poses and deputies started in pursuit. It was found that he had spent the night in a pine tree near the jail and started walking from Wautoma to Richford today.

Posesmen found Logan in a farmer's barn and a member of the posse prodded him out of the hay with a pitchfork.

STRUCK BY BULLET
The Jeffers boy died today of wounds in the head and leg, inflicted by the guns of the deputy sheriffs when they were chasing Logan Saturday night. The shot that struck the boy as he slept in the home of his parents, crashed through the wall of the house, the bedstead and streaked down the entire length of his body. So terrific was its impact, even after passing through the wall that it broke his knee.

Logan, in a car he admitted was stolen, started robbing garages and stores here and at Wild Rose Saturday night. He was first forced to flee when discovered by the owner of one of the garages. Dropping his car keys, he started afoot. A posse met him near Wild Rose and the shooting took place, but he escaped.

The following morning he was found by a farm boy in a hay loft. The boy was prodding carelessly around in the hay with a broomstick, after pleading to "find that robber."

Logan fled, firing a revolver at pursuers. He was finally taken later Sunday, as he walked along the railroad tracks near here. The second capture was peaceful.

Entries Start To Pour In For Paper's "On To Washington" Contest For Pupils

First entries in the Post-Crescent's "On To Washington" contest began pouring in yesterday.

And they not only indicate a widespread interest in County School Superintendent A. G. Meating's proposed commencement trip to Washington, D. C., but they also prove that the boys and girls who are planning to make the trip are busy scheming ways and means by which they can earn sufficient money to pay their expenses.

Scores of letters from prospective graduates in every section of the county were written over the weekend to the Post-Crescent's "On To Washington" editor, telling him of the many plans which boys and girls have made for earning the money.

Mr. Meating's plan of taking the graduates, teachers and parents on the four-day excursion trip to the national capital has evoked much favorable comment and reaction, and he announced Monday that the trip is a certainty now. Letters are being mailed this week to the various schools and students, teachers and parents are being asked to answer these letters by sending in the number of reservations which will be needed by each district. These reservations will be used by Mr. Meating to estimate the size of the crowd that will make the trip.

The county superintendent was especially pleased at the prompt response of the students to the Post-Crescent's contest. Because he said it indicated that many of the boys and girls are proving their interest in his proposal by showing they really intend to earn the money.

Remember, boys and girls, the first list of prize winners will be printed in Friday's issue of the Post-Crescent. Every boy and girl whose name appears Friday will receive a half-dollar which can be applied to that commencement trip fund.

And also remember, boys and girls, the contest will continue to run until next June. Every Friday the Post-Crescent will publish another list of prize winners. The only requirements of this contest are that all entries be submitted in the hand writing of the contestant and that the idea be original and adaptable for use in other parts of the county.

One of the motives behind the contest is to supply ideas to rural school boys and girls who want to earn the money to make the trip and the Post-Crescent feels the ideas of the students themselves will help other pupils in other parts of the county.

UTILITY OFFERS BUS ROUTE PLAN

Wisconsin Michigan Power Company Asks Council's Approval

A letter from the Wisconsin Michigan Power company seeking the common council's approval of the bus route proposal as a substitute for the street railway service, when it is abandoned was received Tuesday by Mayor A. C. Rule. This letter and one from the railroad commission stating that the commission has no jurisdiction in the discontinuance of street car service, will be considered at the meeting of the common council Wednesday night.

Telegrams advocating the removal of the street cars and commending the council on its approval of this proposition were received by the mayor from E. A. Peterson, now in Chicago, and J. L. Jacquot, at present in Palm Springs, Calif.

GIANNINI SINGS THIS EVENING AT LAWRENCE CHAPEL

Diva Rose to International Fame in Only Three Short Seasons

Tonight at 8:20 in Lawrence Memorial chapel, Dusolina Giannini, will sing. The diva, whose concert is a stellar attraction on the Community Artist series program, has experienced an amazing rise to fame.

At the end of three short seasons she is an artist of international reputation, everywhere compared with the immortal Patti, Eames, Melba, Nordica, Sembrich and the rest, who represent the highest in classical tradition—and she is yet but 26 years old.

Giannini's success may be almost reduced to an equation, and the very elements that made her New York debut in Carnegie hall, an amazing revelation, are the elements that have enabled her to maintain an unchallenged position in the musical world. Giannini's great natural talent, intelligence, and industry, grew under the tutelage of Marcella Sembrich, until she was able to seize an opportunity when it came and to follow her initial success with unwavering power.

The diva will sing the following program this evening with Molly Burnstein assisting at the piano:

RUSH NOMINATION PAPERS TO CLERK AS DEADLINE NEARS

With Tuesday the last day for filing nomination papers for the spring election, the stack of signed documents on the city clerk's desk rose with the rapidity of a loaf of bread in a hot oven. Most candidates for aldermanic positions had filed their papers by Tuesday and other papers were coming in throughout the day. Papers for John Goodland, Jr., and Mayor A. C. Rule, candidates for the mayorship, Seymour Gmeiner and Thomas Ryan, school supervisors; Fred Bachman, treasurer and George Peotter, assessor, have been returned to the clerk's office.

The remaining attractions on the Artist Series program are, Paul Kuchanski, violin virtuoso, to appear in Memorial chapel, March 6, and Vladimir Horowitz, Russian pianist acclaimed by critics as "the find of the age." Horowitz who will appear in Appleton April 5, not only succeeds Paderewski in classical tradition he exceeds Paderewski at his best.

Toronto — It may take a long while, but Uncle Sam pays his bills. In the war of 1912 the United States seized a Canadian schooner. Twenty-five heirs of the owner have just split $15,546, what's left of an arbitration award of $25,644 made two years ago.

Chinese Have Countless Thousands Of Gods, Idols

Shanghai.—(P)—The Chinese people worship so many gods that it has taken Newton Hayes, noted theologian, many years to count them. As a matter of fact, he never actually completed the job.

In a recent survey of Chinese religions, published after 10 years of study, Mr. Hayes quotes earlier contemporaries who state that the Indian divinities total 33,339, while the Greeks of ancient time had 30,000. The Chinese, he asserts, can exceed even these figures.

Besides thousands of idols, Mr. Hayes has found that the Chinese worship horses, cows, snakes, while even some insects which feed on the human body have supernatural powers accorded to them by human beings living in Cathay.

Mr. Hayes has also found that one can search in vain for a supreme creator and ruler of the universe. All other nations have a supreme deity, he points out, but China has none that occupies exactly the same place in her category of gods.

"Ten year's study of the gods of the Chinese leads us to feel that it is safe to say that there are probably even more recognized deities in the Chinese pantheon than in those of any other race," he declares.

PROPOSES BAN ON DETROIT TAXICABS

Mayor Urged to Halt Operation Until Strike Has Been Settled

Pittsburg.—(P)—Mayor Charles H. Kline was urged today to halt the operation of taxicabs in the city until the dispute between striking drivers and their employers is settled. County Commissioners J. G. Armstrong and E. V. Babcock, proposed the ban following an attack on a cab in the downtown district last night.

Several groups were continuing discussions on means of bringing the strike to an end. A citizens' committee met with the announced purpose of ascertaining the facts in the strike, and a committee representing the strikers was reported to be in conference with company officials.

A passenger who said he was J. W. Brown of Zanesville, Ohio, a cab driver, and a deputy sheriff, engaged to prevent violence against the cab narrowly escaped injury when a large piece of metal was thrown at a cab while it was on its way from a railroad station last midnight. The missile shattered a window in the vehicle and showered the passenger with broken glass.

The strike began Jan. 12 when the drivers employed by the Yellow and Green cab companies demanded increased commissions and recognition of their union. The companies have attempted to operate with new drivers and deputy sheriffs were engaged to guard the vehicles. Numerous attacks have been made on the cabs.

NEW MAYOR FOR QUEBEC

Quebec.—(P)—H. E. Lavigneur was elected mayor of Quebec yesterday by a majority of 1,128 defeating Mayor J. O. Auger, who has held the post since 1928.

New York — Will you marry again? They asked the Duke of Manchester. "Well, rather. Why not?" he replied. He came from Havana, where he intended to seek a divorce. But on getting there, he said, he found the former Helene Zimmerman of Cincinnati had saved him trouble by starting proceedings in England.

Two Genna Brothers Taken In Chicago Crime Drive

ONE SLAYING REPORTED AS POLICE RAID

Chinatown Murder Not Seen as Tong Affair—Total Nabbed Now 6,000

Chicago—(P)—In the midst of its drive on crime, Chicago today was presented with a new brutal murder tangle, the victim a young mother.

The body of Mrs. Agnes Lavender, 35, was found in a lumber yard adjoining the tracks of the Chicago Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railway on the northwest side of the city. She had been shot through the head and beaten, her wounded right hand indicated she had made a futile attempt to defend herself. She had not been attacked.

Chicago—(P)—A Chinatown murder and the arrest of the two surviving Genna brothers, Sam and Peter, were overnight developments in the crime situation.

During the 24 hour period ended at 11 p. m. last night only six petty burglaries, no robberies and no shootings were reported. During that period 628 arrests were made, carrying the total in the continuing drive against crooks toward the 6,000 mark.

The murder of Dong Poy, a 22-year-old Chinese, occurred early today, shortly after the police report had been issued. Poy was shot at Westmoreland and 22nd sts., the residence of Chicago's Chinatown.

First fears that the slaying marked a new tong war were allayed by police who said Dong Poy was not affiliated with either the On Leong or the Hip Sing factions. So far as the preliminary investigation showed, Dong Poy had no police record.

Two cab company employees, including the Mandarin Temple restaurant owned by Willie Lee, president of the On Leong Tong, witnessed the shooting. They saw Poy, pursued by a man, running down 22nd-st. The man caught Poy at the intersection with Westmoreland, and holding him with one hand, pressed a pistol against Poy's back and fired four times. The assassin followed three weeks later, a victim of a gun fight with policemen; but a shot from his own pistol took a police officer to death with him. Poy Genna was killed a month after Mike. He was one of the first gang victims to name his attacker—and Tony (the Cavalier) Spano, the man he named, died from a gang attack a year later.

CONDEMNED WOMAN MAY PLEAD INSANITY
Florence, Ariz.—(P)—Mrs. Eva Dugan, the first woman to receive the death sentence in Arizona, today has an opportunity to escape the gallows by way of a insanity plea. Mrs. Dugan is under sentence to hang at the state prison here Friday for the slaying of A. J. Mathis, aged Tucson, Ariz., rancher.

A request for a sanity hearing was made by Warden Lorenzo Wright and Dr. L. A. Love, prison physician, both of whom have stated they will testify to the belief that the woman is insane. Dr. Love and Dr. C. W. Brown, former prison physician, have said that Mrs. Dugan is insane as the result of "inbreeds" made by a disease she contracted more than 30 years ago.

If Mrs. Dugan is found insane she will be committed to the state asylum. If found mentally sound she will be hanged.

CHINESE COURT FINES AMERICAN MISSIONARY
Shanghai—(P)—Unofficial advice from Tientsin today stated that A. H. Smith, an American missionary, had been fined in a Chinese court and fined $100 "Mickay" money for causing the death of a young Chinese in an automobile accident.

After his car had struck the Chinese, Smith surrendered himself to a Chinese court. The case was watched with interest because of its possible bearing upon the Nationalist government's efforts to abolish foreign courts in China and to establish the jurisdiction of native tribunals over all foreigners as well as all Chinese.

It was understood that the American state department viewed Smith's action as unfavorable, maintaining that individual Americans are not authorized to submit themselves to Chinese authorities except as specified in Sino-American treaties.

The Oldtimer Asks--

Do You Remember When—

You had your first taste of a banana, a pineapple, grape fruit, a coconut? A good many of us can.

There was a great big wood box with a lid that could be raised or lowered in the hall of the old Pestalozzi school building at College-ave. and Law-st. that would hold nearly a cord of wood (probably a relic of the old Hanna Hotel days) and how a teacher of the 4th reader room of the First ward school when held there, with the help of one of the older girl pupils, put a young girl pupil into this box and closed the lid and kept her there a prisoner until school let out?

We all used slates in school and slate pencils and how some of the slates were quite fancy with red flannel binding tied or keeled on with a string like a shoe string and some of them were double, and do you remember the time honored method of cleaning your slate by spitting on it, or laying it with your tongue, and wiping it dry on the sleeves of your coat (HOW UNSANITARY) and do you remember the pictures we used to draw and the game "TIT-TAT-TOE-THREE-IN-A-ROW?" that we used to play with our desk mate when the teacher wasn't looking?

PARLEY'S FATE IS UP TO AMERICANS

to questions arising in the Pacific ocean. The Welsh speech is considered significant of the attitude of the Democrats here because in the absence of Senator Robinson of Arkansas who is one of the delegates at London, Mr. Walsh is acting as Democratic leader.

With the support of the Democrats to count upon Mr. Hoover would be assured of a two-thirds vote in the event that the American delegation signed a treaty of consultation.

Such pact would give Premier Tardieu what he has been angling for from the beginning and would be considered a diplomatic triumph in Paris. The pact would insure the continuance of the Tardieu ministry. Just now France is concerned over theoretical conflict with Italy and the United States delegation has been very anxious to avoid siding with Monsieur Tardieu as against Signor Mussolini.

MUST LIMIT FRANCE

While neither France nor Italy have large navies, nevertheless the British fleet cannot be cut down unless there is some limitation upon France. Indirectly, therefore, the whole problem affects the United States because the sentiment in this country favors parity with Great Britain and it so happens that neither London nor Washington want to see their own navies enlarged.

President Hoover will have to make the decision as to how far the consultation treaty will go. France is not going to insist on a definition of what shall happen after the consultation has taken place. She relies on the thought that in an emergency the United States being obligated to assist other powers is not likely to assist a nation which appears to be the aggressor.

The league of nations covenant makes it an obligation of its members to apply the economic boycott but since the United States never joined the league it has not been clear just what America might do if other nations did apply the boycott. The Kellogg treaty was accepted by Europe because of the belief that the United States thereby undertook a moral obligation to maintain peace and that by no stretch of the imagination could the United States, a signatory of the anti-war treaties, do anything to aid a nation which had violated the world-wide declaration against war.

MILD WEATHER TO PREVAIL WEDNESDAY

Mild weather will continue for another 24 hours, according to the waterman. Snow probably will fall in the section of the state Tuesday night or Wednesday morning. Rain or snow was predicted in the southern sections of the state Tuesday.

Sleets will be cloudy over most of the middle-west during the next 24 hours. Winds are shifting from the southwest, which is a good indication that moderate temperatures will continue.

At 6 o'clock Tuesday morning the mercury registered 31 degrees above zero, while at noon it registered 35 degrees.

Plane Modeling Exhibit At Y. M. C. A. Wednesday
Appleton's future aviators, boys now spending their spare moments modeling airplanes will have their day Wednesday at the Y. M. C. A. gym when the models will be placed on public exhibition and Elwin West of the North American Airways company, Appleton, will talk.

The public exhibition of planes is the first step in a program to interest young people in Appleton in plane modeling. A movement already has been started to organize an Air Cadet chapter here and the meeting Wednesday which also is open to the public at large, is expected to stir up much enthusiasm.

Less Crime In Britain Than In '14

London—(P)—Britain's criminals are one class which seem to be traveling on the road which leads to gradual extinction. While the criminal "dole," as the prisons appropriation might be termed is decreasing the government today finds itself embarrassed by too many prisons and military barracks.

Mainstone jail, which is to be closed shortly, is the twenty-seventh institution of its kind to disappear since 1914. Since that year—memorable as the outbreak of the war—the prison population of the United Kingdom has declined 70 per cent.

The surplus of military barracks arises partly from reduction of the forces and partly because the scheme of army organization today calls for the concentration of troops in definite training areas rather than their housing in different parts of the country. It is doubtful if the great Sheffield barracks will ever be occupied again, that is, unless there should arise emergency conditions.

Like many similar institutions the Sheffield barracks were built about the time when industrialism, still a new phase, was growing to its full strength in the north of England. Such barracks, for the most part, are veritable fortresses designed with the idea of providing refuge in times of civil disturbance.

The suggestion has been made in parliament that London's two principal prisons should be razed and housing areas for the working class substituted.

CIVIC COUNCIL GETS NEW MEMBER

King's Daughters, Charity Organization, Voted to Membership

Appleton circle of King's Daughters, of which Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Stevens is president, and Mrs. John Stevens, secretary, was admitted to membership in the Civic Council at a meeting Monday at the Y. M. C. A. The King's Daughters is a charitable organization which has been in existence in Appleton for several years.

Members of the council went on record requesting the Appleton board of education to consider the need for a school for crippled children here and do everything possible to bring about establishment of a school.

The Council also heard a report on disposition of Goodfellow funds and transacted routine business.

INFANT BRANDED ON CHEEK WITH POKER

Atlanta—(P)—Authorities today were investigating a report that a ten-month-old child was branded on the face with a poker, severely bruised and placed under a pile of coal in a fuel bin while members of its family were absent from home.

The child, Flori Belle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bebout was left in charge of a half sister, Mary Lou, 12, late yesterday. Mary Lou went out of the house for a short time to search for her 8-year-old brother. When she returned she said she heard the baby screaming and located it in the coal box. She said the child apparently had been burned across the right side of the face with the poker and scratched with a pin found on the floor.

An unidentified man seen in the neighborhood frequently was sought for questioning.

2 CENT REDUCTION IN GASOLINE PRICES

Gasoline prices were reduced 2 cents a gallon throughout the state Monday, it was reported here Tuesday. High test gasoline which formerly sold at 22.6 cents per gallon, including the two cents gas tax, is now selling for 20.6 cents. Low test gasoline, which sold at 19.5 cents a gallon, is now retailing at 17.5 cents. Fuel oil prices were not affected by the reduction.

INTER-CITY BUS CO. FILES DISSOLUTION

The Inter-City Bus company, which formerly was operated by the Wisconsin Michigan Power company, has been dissolved according to papers filed Tuesday morning with A. G. Koch, register of deeds. A. K. Ellis was president and Louis R. Greenz was secretary of the company. Mr. Ellis said the charter which the company held had been turned over to the Wisconsin Michigan Power company.

At the time of the dissolution, the company was operating a line of buses between Appleton and Green Bay, which has been dissolved according to papers filed Tuesday morning with A. G. Koch, register of deeds.

At 6 o'clock Tuesday morning the mercury registered 31 degrees above zero, while at noon it registered 35 degrees.

POSTPONE HOCKEY GAMES WHEN WARM WEATHER MELTS ICE

Hockey matches scheduled for Appleton high school and the city team, the Blue Strikers, on Jones park rink tonight were called off at noon when indications were there would be no ice for the contest. Warm weather which at noon had made a risk a postponement of the two games. The highs were to have played Manawa, the city team, Green Bay.

NEW CHEESE GRADING PLAN IS CONSIDERED

Marshfield—(P)—A new state plan for grading cheese was laid today before the Central Wisconsin Cheese-makers, Buttermakers and Dairy-men's Advancement association, in convention here. A member of the state department of agriculture and markets was given the principal place on the program, to explain the proposed changes. Questionnaires were issued asking for members' reactions.

DOG FAILS TO BARK, MASTER FOUND DEAD

Rhineland—(P)—A faithful dog whose failure to bark led to the discovery his master was dead, stood guard over the body of Robert McNab, 55, when neighbors came to remove it and balked their efforts until a man he knew coaxed him away.

McNab was caretaker of an estate on Bass lake, near here. He was in the habit of inspecting the grounds early in the morning and the dog would bark at the sound of his footsteps. Yesterday the neighbors failed to hear the dog bark at the time the rounds were made and investigated.

END TARIFF BATTLE IS HOOVER'S PLEA

from bottom to top. That principle is as national as the flag."

Not only the tariff bill, but the appropriation bills for the various departments, are worrying administration leaders. Early passage of some of the measures is necessary in order to pay salaries of thousands of workers, especially those engaged in federal construction work.

Administration leaders look upon the tariff bill as the principal question remaining to be disposed of before the senate can act on these supply measures.

The White House breakfast was unheeded. It was attended by Speaker Longworth, Senator Watson, the senate Republican leader, Representative Tilson, the house Republican leader, Chairman Hawley of the house ways and means committee, Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee, Chairman Snell of the house rules committee and Chairman McNary, of the senate agriculture committee. As soon as the purpose became known in Capitol Hill, however, there followed a buzzing of comment from leaders in opposing factions.

President Hoover was informed by Senator Watson that the senate was "at the mercy" of the coalition of Democrats and Independent Republicans who have had away in altering the house tariff bill. Senator Borah said a bill would certainly be passed by March 10, while Representative Garner, the Democratic leader, said the president had failed to show leadership and they were either a "lacking in capacity or courage."

HOUSE RESENTFUL

House leaders have hardly tried to conceal resentment over the long period the senate has devoted to the tariff bill. They want to finish up and go home. All of the house members as well as one-third of the senate must stand for reelection this year.

Those pressing for early action on the tariff bill, the argument that business wants that question out of the way as soon as possible. The house has completed most of its work and within ten days is expected to pass all the major appropriation bills and other legislation which it intends to pass and unless the senate should act meanwhile on the tariff, it will have nothing of major rank to consider.

ASK MORE POWER FOR BADGER RADIO STATION

Washington—(P)—Contending that Wisconsin had not been given an equitable share of the nation's broadcasting facilities, representatives of Station WTMJ, operated by the Milwaukee Journal, appeared before the Federal Radio commission today to ask for an increase in power from 1,000 to 5,000 watts and unlimited operation on the frequency of 620 kilocycles.

Louis J. Caldwell, attorney for WTMJ and former general counsel for the commission suggested that the kilocycles be made a cleared channel and assigned to the station for exclusive use. As an alternative, he proposed that WTMJ and KGW, Portland, Ore., be allowed to broadcast simultaneously on the channel.

At the time of the dissolution, the company was operating a line of buses between Appleton and Green Bay, which has been dissolved according to papers filed Tuesday morning with A. G. Koch, register of deeds.

CHARGES MURDER 38 YEARS AFTER UNCLE'S SLAYING

High Point, N. C.—(P)—A vow a local attorney took, as a youth to bring to justice, if humanly possible, the slayers of his uncle has resulted in the arrest in Starke, Fla., of John Morgan, charged with the murder of Francis Tally in Stanly county, N. C., 38 years ago.

Tally, an aged and wealthy bachelor, lived alone, was hacked to death with an axe in November, 1892, by two men who ransacked his home in a vain attempt to obtain gold he was reputed to have kept hidden.

Details of the crime were impressed upon the mind of young J. Allen Autin, a nephew, now a practicing attorney in this city. While a law student at the University of North Carolina he vowed that some day he would find out who killed his uncle.

After he had completed his law course he located here and carried on a tireless investigation into the mystery that veiled the murder. He almost had given up hope of solving the crime until a recent visit to his old home in Stanly-co. While there he learned from a friend that an old man living in the county had declared he "knew the two men who killed Tally out of the state."

The old man told the story in a crowd that had gathered to "swap yarns."

"I was just a boy," the old man was quoted as saying, "but I had enough sense to keep that thing quiet. This is the first time I have ever told the story."

He mentioned the names of two men who lived in Stanly-co years ago.

Armed with this information, Autin resumed his investigation and after a vigorous inquiry brought about the arrest of Morgan. Now he hopes to gather sufficient evidence to bring about other arrests.

Morgan, who has lived in Florida 25 years, has become known there as an industrious citizen. He asserts he is resisting efforts of authorities to bring him back to North Carolina to face trial.

AWARD CONTRACTS FOR NEW MATERIAL

Bids on material for developing the Appleton water system were rejected at a special meeting of the water commission in the city hall Monday afternoon. All contracts for material were awarded, except for copper service pipe. All bids for copper pipe were rejected except that of the Wolverine Tube Co. The commission will investigate the thickness of the copper piping before awarding the contract.

The contract for furnishing cast iron fittings went to the Municipal Foundries of Milwaukee on the low bid of $95 per ton, while the contract for brass service fittings was awarded to the Mueller Co. of Decatur, Ill.

DAME LECTURES ON FOOT TROUBLES AT LIONS CLUB MEET

Says Too Many People Neglect Their Feet and Don't Walk Properly

Causes of foot troubles and scientific methods of treatment were outlined Monday afternoon by George Dame in an illustrated lecture at the weekly luncheon of the Lions club in the Crystal room of Conway hotel. Mr. Dame has studied foot troubles and their treatment, and has given lectures in this state and in other countries.

The difficulty in the shoe business has been that shoe manufacturers who know how to make shoes know very little about foot troubles and doctors who know about the anatomy of feet know little or nothing about shoes," Mr. Dame said.

Shoe men are coming to the realization that perfect foot comfort cannot be assured their patrons unless the feet of these patrons are remedied, Mr. Dame declared. He showed pictures of malformed feet and told how foot troubles can be relieved by proper and consistent exercise. He also showed that it is impossible for a shoe made to fit a normal foot to give comfort to a person whose feet is abnormal.

"Shoes are made for normal feet and since it is impossible to alter shoes it is necessary to remedy malformed feet," Mr. Dame said.

Mr. Dame condemned high heeled shoes, declaring they are responsible for a great deal of the foot trouble of which women complain. He showed how the weight of the wearer is put in the wrong place and how the strain soon results in breakdowns that cause distress.

Walking was commended as the finest form of exercise for the feet but he warned that walking must be properly done and he drew a comparison between the Indian who could walk all day without tiring and the modern miss who finds it difficult to walk a mile.

"The difference is in the way they walk. The Indian walks correctly with his feet strictly parallel while the modern woman toes out, putting an undue strain on a place where nature did not intend there should be strain."

Mr. Dame said that if as much time was spent in the care of the feet as in the care of the face there would be a great deal more foot comfort.

TARDIEU EXPECTED TO RETAIN OFFICE

party leaders be given considerable weight in order that the government would be able to muster a substantial majority and prevent any further crisis interfering with the London conference or ratification of the Young plan.

It was regarded as certain, however, that France's naval policy would not be changed no matter who heads the new cabinet. This naval policy is the result of months of consultation by Premier Tardieu with all political parties and is based on a gradually developed attitude since the Washington conference. Premier Tardieu's stand has gained remarkable popularity and general approval by all except extremists.

PARLEY WAITS

London—(P)—Very little probably will be accomplished by the five power naval conference during the next week or more, until the French governmental crisis, brought on by defeat of Premier Andre Tardieu in the chamber of deputies, is settled and a new cabinet is installed.

Conference observers saw little prospect of improvement of the situation with advent of a new regime in Paris. M. Tardieu, it was believed, probably will succeed himself as premier, and long more tenaciously than ever to his naval program. 725,000 tons by 1937. The figure involves 240,000 tons construction.

Meanwhile the five power naval conference has become a four power naval conference. Technically there is no French delegation, all having lost their status with resignation of the government. Georges Leygues, last of the delegation, with the exception of Ambassador de Fleurbaey, left today for Paris. Only the experts and technical advisers remained in London.

This development came at a time when the entire conference activities hinged upon and were built around the French stand. Since the middle of last week when French demands for just less than 250,000 tons of new ships were known the other naval powers have been unable to proceed toward an agreement, realizing that unless France reduced its figures they would be forced into a naval building program which probably would surpass any of their former expectations.

Kohler Tells Attorneys To Proceed With Trial

Madison—Governor Kohler today stated that he had instructed his attorneys to proceed with the trial of his case in the Circuit court of Sheboygan. The governor said:

"Following the decision by the Supreme Court of Wisconsin in the suit brought against me by political opponents, I have received many requests to make a public statement as to further proceedings. In sponsoring to these requests, I call attention to the several suits and proceedings which have been commenced against me by these political opponents since the defeat of their candidate for the nomination for governor in the September primary in 1925.

"The first proceeding was commenced and disposed of between the date of my nomination in the primaries and my election. This was in accordance with the law.

"When my case came to the office of governor of this state to which I had been elected by a plurality of 153,370 votes, was thus attacked by political opponents, my duty as the chief executive of the state, as well as my duty to its citizens, impelled me to have the law defined by the highest tribunal of the state and to have decided the important question whether the Corrupt Practices act was constitutionally applicable to the offices of governor, lieutenant governor, and other constitutional officers. The gravity and difficulty of the problem is evidenced by the Supreme Court opinion which covers 52 typewritten pages.

"The Supreme Court makes it clear that it is defining the law and not passing upon the truth of the allegations which it says:

"We have not considered and do not consider this case with reference to the acts of any individual, our duty being to determine whether, if the act is violated, it is within the constitutional power of the legislature to declare the ensuing election void."

"I have not yet answered the complaint in this case and no testimony has been taken. The questions passed upon by the Supreme Court were solely constitutional and did not involve the correctness of the allegations of my opponents. The facts can be determined only by a jury.

"Now that the question of law has been passed upon by the Supreme Court, I have instructed my counsel to proceed with the trial of the case in the Circuit Court of Sheboygan-co.

QUEEN OF SWEDEN IS REPORTED GRAVELY ILL

Rome—(P)—Condition of Queen Victoria of Sweden was said by her physician, Dr. Axel Munthe, today to be grave. A formal bulletin was given out to newspapers and agencies.

The Swedish colony here is considerably alarmed. Dr. Munthe, as well as King Gustav, has spent the last few days at her majesty's villa.

The king had planned to go to the Riviera a few days ago but remained in Rome instead. Giving out today's bulletin here instead of in Stockholm, where they usually have been forwarded, was interpreted by some as an indication of increased gravity in the queen's long illness.

OPEN HOUSE AT Y. M. C. A. TONIGHT

STAGE AND SCREEN

NIGHT RIDE
Gangland and the newspaper game, offering an unequalled field for colorful adventure and romance, is the background of "Night Ride," a fast-moving, highly-dramatic, all talking Universal picture, playing at the Elite Theatre, today tomorrow and Thursday in which Joseph Schildkraut stars in his first "straight" role.

Schildkraut, as a "dude" star reporter, wins the girl of his dreams and while they are being married the telephone rings and calls him back to duty on a red-hot story. True to newspaper tradition, he leaves his bride-of-a-minute and dashes off on his story—the pursuit of a murdering gangster, "Tony Garotta."

"Garotta," however, traps Schildkraut and takes him for the well-known "ride," in the meantime bombing the house in which Schildkraut has left his bride. What happens then with dramatic situations piling on top of each other, is as exciting as a story can be, and yet it is authentic.

Schildkraut, who starred with Laura La Plante in "Show Boat" and later alone in "The Mississippi Gambler," both costume pictures, appears to advantage in his "straight" role as a reporter. Opposite him as his imperiled bride, winsome Earline Kent whose performance makes one look forward to her next picture.

No finer characterization of a big-city gangster has been seen on the screen than that given by Edward G. Robinson in the part of "Garotta." Robinson is perfection. He was imported from New York for the role after his remarkable performance in the Greek gunnery in the stage production of "The Racket." Others who turn in commendable performances are Harry Stubbs, 725,000 tons by 1937. The figure involves 240,000 tons construction.

Meanwhile the five power naval conference has become a four power naval conference. Technically there is no French delegation, all having lost their status with resignation of the government. Georges Leygues, last of the delegation, with the exception of Ambassador de Fleurbaey, left today for Paris. Only the experts and technical advisers remained in London.

This development came at a time when the entire conference activities hinged upon and were built around the French stand. Since the middle of last week when French demands for just less than 250,000 tons of new ships were known the other naval powers have been unable to proceed toward an agreement, realizing that unless France reduced its figures they would be forced into a naval building program which probably would surpass any of their former expectations.

MOUTHE ACTS TO GUARD STATE-OWNED RESOURCES

Fond du Lac—(P)—Two steps to protect state lands from private exploitation have been taken by the Wisconsin Conservation commission. Chairman William Mauthe announced yesterday that restrictions have been placed on the leasing of park lands to private persons and a standard form of contract has been adopted to govern all timber cutting on state-owned forest tracts.

The contract provides for the cutting of only mature, declining, defective or over-crowded trees and on only subject to the marking of each tree by forest rangers and under their supervision. A penalty of three times the timber's market value has been provided for breach of the contract.

Notice and notice had been served that in the future land can be leased for only one year at a time

No Relief So Quick! Stomach Gas Pains

Indigestion, Bloating

Don't wait another day—don't suffer another moment—eat everything you want now without a sign of indigestion, gas, bloating or dizziness. The right way—the time-proven way to get quick relief from weak ailing stomachs and get back health and strength is the use of Tanlac.

Just a tablespoon of this reliable medicine before meals is almost an absolute guarantee that you will have no after-dinner misery. But Tanlac is not intended to give temporary relief only. Its chief is a benediction of those troubles which have kept you so miserable. These claims for Tanlac are based on a record of over 10 years' success. One man says he lived on milk and raw eggs for 2 months and had lost all his strength but after taking Tanlac for only 3 days he began to eat everything and gain strength. If you doubt that Tanlac will benefit you, you have the privilege of going to your druggist, purchasing a bottle and if, after using it you are not benefited, greatly your money will be refunded. Accept no substitute.

Modern Medicine turns away from "DOSING"

Back in the old "horse and buggy" days, it was the custom to give large doses of internal medicines for almost every human ailment. Then a North Carolina pharmacist originated Vicks VapoRub, the better method of treating colds externally. Mothers appreciate Vicks, because it checks children's colds without the risk of upsetting delicate little stomachs.

Adults, too, have found Vicks just as good for their own colds. Today, the whole trend of medical practice is away from needless "dosing."

Now 26 million jars used yearly

FRANCE'S DEMANDS

France has placed Great Britain and the United States in an awkward position by her frank and complete statement of defense requirements before the London conference. Instead of reducing her navy she proposes to add to it some 240,000 tons, in order to give herself the protection she believes she is entitled to on the theory that she may have to fight. Having no battleships she feels that she must rely upon a large number of cruisers and their auxiliary craft. Italy wants a parity with France, or at least recognition of the right to parity, and this would mean almost doubling the size of her navy.

After the experience of 1914 France is not going to trust her fate to providence. She already has the largest standing army in Europe and she proposes to have the largest navy in continental Europe. She is, however, willing to cancel her building program which will greatly augment her fleet in the next six years provided she is given ample security guarantee. If navies are to be regulated in size on the basis of peace expectancy, France wants this expectancy assured. Only in such a contingency does she concede that armament is relative and that defense requirements are not absolute and fixed.

It must be admitted that in principle France is right. To the United States, the richest and most powerful nation on earth, it is of less concern than any other whether armaments are great or small. It would profit enormously from making them small, but it can also pay the bill if they are excessive. Great Britain already has a navy of ample proportion to safeguard all her home and imperial interests. She, too, can well afford to reduce her armament if the other nations do, and the economic gain to her would be greater than any other nation. Japan is anxious to actually reduce armament and is willing to go as far as any other nation in this reduction. Italy also favors reduction.

It would seem, therefore, that the decision as to whether the London conference is to end with or without disarmament and possibly with increased armament rests upon the United States and Great Britain. They are the world leaders and their action will govern the action of the others. There are many trading points on which France may be persuaded to ameliorate or alter her proposals and of course they will all be resorted to. In the background, however, is the greater issue of security guarantees and France is the logical nation to raise it.

If the world is actually peace-minded and the Kellogg-Briand treaty means anything, what France asks for is entirely reasonable and consistent, for it means simply that the great powers which have subscribed to the Kellogg-Briand treaty, along with the Locarno treaties, are prepared to uphold them and make good their solemn promise to banish war. We must not despair of bringing about disarmament because its problems are complicated and far-reaching. The questions raised by France may not be answered in this conference and it may terminate less successfully than the world had hoped, but in due time ways and means for preserving peace other than those that now exist will have to be devised if great navies and military establishments are to be wiped out and the world disarmed.

A NEW ART

An advertising man connected with a big radiator company makes remarkable claims for the honorable art of remodeling. His company has been making a survey of the nation's homes and finds about 16,000,000 of them which are out of date and uncomfortable to live in but which with comparatively small expenditure "could be brought up to today's standard of living."

This standard, he points out, is much higher than that of 10 years ago, "when the attic was a store room for junk and the basement a mess without even laundry equipment." Possibly he exaggerates a little. There were many homes pretty well equipped for convenient living even in the remote period of 1920. But progress in household arts and appliances has been remarkably rapid since that time. Taste, too, changes along with the demand for labor-saving devices. Art joins science. Prosperity raises new standards. Most people are dissatisfied with houses that were quite satisfactory a few years ago. Often it is a question of tearing down or remodeling.

In millions of cases it would be folly to destroy. Remodeling is the latest household art. People in every community are learning how to do it. It is one of the conservation arts. This year will give it great impetus. Huge sums will be spent on modernizing. And this, says a builder, will be "the salvation of the building industry."

NOT MUCH EFFICIENCY

Naval disarmament ought to be popular in England, when Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, complains that the last war is still costing Great Britain $2,600,000,000 a year and at the present rate of paying her debts, she will not be out of the red for 140 years. The lesson is driven home by the added statement that Britain has more unemployed people than she had before the war, and less means of earning the wherewithal to pay her war debts.

By contrast Snowden points to Germany, which is relatively prosperous. Germany has no great armament burden as the other powers have. That is because Germany was disarmed by the conquering powers at the close of the war. It was a bitter pill to swallow at the time. Germany groaned as she surrendered her military and naval armament. But her conquerors are doing the groaning now. They did Germany an unintentional favor.

Along with news of the naval conference at London comes word that Germany, keeping strictly to the limitations made upon her own navy by the Versailles treaty, has nevertheless produced another revolutionary battleship.

The treaty allowed Germany only 144,000 tons, but the Germans have so improved the battleship that ton for ton it is more effective than other ships. For example, there are no rivets in the new ships. Their plates are electrically welded, saving 14 per cent in weight. Thus, a ship which would, under rivet construction, have a displacement of 11,000 or 12,000 tons, has a displacement of only 10,000. Everything in the ship, from keel to cockpits, is part of the armor structure itself. The Germans believe that such ships are a third more effective than the old type. The new German vessels also are swifter, have a greater cruising range and a much greater firing range, all these advantages brought about by improved methods of construction.

So far, the Germans have kept their new inventions secret, but they believe that all the other powers will know and use them within a few years. If so, the present fretting and fussing over current types of war vessels is beside the point. There are more important phases of naval disarmament which need attention. Haggling over the number and tonnage of ships that may soon be obsolete isn't so very efficient.

Today's Anniversary

CONFEDERATE CONGRESS
On Feb. 18, 1862, the first Congress of the Permanent Confederate government convened at Richmond, Va.

Just a year before this date seven southern states had withdrawn from the Union and sent delegates to Montgomery, Ala., to frame a government. This done, they elected Jefferson Davis, of Mississippi, resident of the "Confederate States of America."

After the Confederate Congress held its Richmond session, Davis was formally inaugurated for a term of six years. Although the first Congress met four times and the second Congress twice, there was never much popular confidence in either.

This was because the Congress held secret sessions, cabinet officers exercised their right to sit in Congress and many personal controversies arose among civil and military officials.

This date also commemorates the taking over of the combined Confederate forces in 1865 by General Robert E. Lee.

EATING FOR RESILIENCE

The word resilience conveys the idea of bouncing. When a guy's first baby is born, if it isn't a mere child, the conventional announcement is a bouncing boy. Well that idea will do very well. We doctors mean something like that when we speak of the resilience of the tissues; we mean vitality; power to recover; ability to come back. What one eats determines, not wholly but to a considerable degree, one's resilience. When we are very young, we're so resilient that we scarcely think about it at all; but when we are with-in sight of middle age, one way or the other, we begin to realize there is some such property in one's constitution or makeup.
I realized it first and quite definitely when I discovered here a year ago that I could no longer run a mile—or at least I quit when I was only a little over half way around. Now two years ago I ran the mile. So there you are. Had I not tried it I might not have known that I was slipping. Don't fool yourself about this brothers and sisters. There are miles everywhere, and free of charge; just go out and try and run one before you kid yourself with your premature senility to neglect of my own exercise, but although I have since come back, to the extent of running the mile, I am not so sure it was just neglect of exercise that humbled me in my own estimation. I believe now it was partly due to my fondness for the delectable carbohydrates.
Like many other doctors, some of them perhaps as good as I think I am, I do not always do as I would have others do; sometimes neglect to take my own medicine. Like all doctors who fail to take care of their own health, I plead the demands on my own time and all that. But the real reason, no doubt, is my indomitable fondness for carbohydrate in the form of bread, potatoes, candy, sugar and the like; then the torpor which diet inevitably produces makes me skip the exercise, just today, then for a few days, and ultimately as a fixed habit. So here I am hitting 50 and making a great to do about running a mile. I'm ashamed of myself. After all my preaching and everything. But I want all our boys and girls to know that I am honest about it, and that I'm just a fair average dud, and if I can come back, why, anyone with the makings, the premonitory indications of a breakdown or the development of degenerative disease already upon him or her, can come back along the same route I am taking. I am going to try—I promise no more than that—to follow old Dr. Langstroff's regimen. Here it is without any more words:

The Tynmites

By Hal Cochran
The wind kept blowing good and strong and 'course it wasn't very long till poor old Mister Scarecrow was a sad, sad sight to see. The straw within him spread and littered up the nearby ground. The Tynmites, all quite amazed, watched from a great big tree.

Said Scouty, "My but I feel sad. Just look at him. It's just too bad. And we have lost a friend. To save him it would have been kind, but, take my own medicine. Like all doctors who fail to take care of their own health, I plead the demands on my own time and all that. But the real reason, no doubt, is my indomitable fondness for carbohydrate in the form of bread, potatoes, candy, sugar and the like; then the torpor which diet inevitably produces makes me skip the exercise, just today, then for a few days, and ultimately as a fixed habit. Then Clowny, all excited said, "Why, say, with needle and some thread we might sew Mister Scarecrow up so he might be all right. The thought, of course, is very grand, but there's no needle near at hand. And, anyway, the wind is blowing all his straw from sight."

This made the other Tynmites smile. Said one, "You argue for a while and then you quickly change your mind. You might as well keep still. The scarecrow's gone and that is that. The wind has simply blown him flat. I wish the wind would stop its blowing. I have had my fill."

"Me, too," another Tyn cried. And then the wind seemed to subside. "Oh, goody, goody," Coppy yelled. "It's getting calm again. If it stays this way, there's no doubt that we can shortly walk right out. It's funny how we have to hide from wind-storms now and then."

Then out they marched and looked around, but nowhere could their bike be found. All of a sudden Coppy cried, "Oh, gee, this is a fright. On yonder hill I plainly see a Valentin. I'm sure that he will stop 'er come back." And then they watched him ride right out of sight.

Seen And Heard In New York

BY RICHARD MASSOCK

New York — Society folk, whose balls and private donations help provide hospitalization for the poor, have built a new hospital for themselves.

It overlooks the East river at picturesque Hell Gate and the managers prefer to call it a hotel because it has a restaurant, lounge and numerous concessions, such as barber shop, newstand, beauty shop, telegraph counted and tailor.

In fact, devising a formal title was a puzzling problem for the board of directors, which includes Percy A. Rockefeller, Thomas Cochran and George Whitney, the latter two partners of J. P. Morgan.

It is customary to name hospitals after saints, localities or the sponsors. This being a private hospice, owned by 500 stockholders the names of saints and founders were unsuitable.

Somebody proposed calling it the "Hell Gate hospital." The board decided that was too suggestive. "East End Avenue hospital" was too long. So they left the matter pending. Meanwhile, for convenience, they called the place "Doctors' hospital." That remains its formal designation.

The thirteenth floor—the hospital is 14 stories high—was an easier problem. It is used for the eight operating rooms and thus the ominous word "thirteenth" need never be applied. It instead is the "operating floor."

FROM BONDS TO BRUSHES
The hands that clip coupons sometimes paint our pictures and vice versa. Within the last month four men formerly in business have exhibited the work of their own brush and palette.

They are Mortimer J. Fox, ex-banker; Henry R. Beckman, former lawyer; John A. Dix, ex-broker and Horace E. Brown, retired executive of a nationally famous sporting goods house.

ART PATRON
Samuel T. Shaw, capitalist, former fencing champion and neighbor of Charles M. Schwab, also tried painting some 50 years ago while he was convalescing from an operation.

He gave it up, though and became one of New York's most persistent art patrons.

Sam Shaw is well known among old time travelers as proprietor of the once famous Grand Union hotel. Before its demolition in 1914, it provided convenient lodgings for out-of-town buyers arriving at the New York Central's terminal, which it faced and on its walls were first shown paintings of young artists who subsequently became successful.

Since 1932 Shaw has been donor of an annual art prize. His first, awarded by the Society of American Artists, went to Theodore Robinson. When the society, nicknamed "The Fairies," merged with the National Academy of Design in 1908, Shaw began giving his prize of $1000 through the Salmagundi club to the artist whose picture Shaw himself likes best.

This year the winner is Charles S. Chapman, whose picture, "The Parable," showing Christ among his followers, will be added to Shaw's collection, which now numbers some 300 paintings.

The award is celebrated at an annual dinner of which Shaw is the host. He calls himself the club's aristologist, which your dictionary may tell you, means one versed in the science of dining.

states, and probably a lot of them from the state of Iowa.

"Then," replied Brookhart, "the senator recognizes, does he not, that Iowa has sent her worst citizens down to New York to join in the same game?"

Said Copeland:
"I hope the senator is fortunate enough to have sent all of his worst citizens. If he can get rid of them in that way, I congratulate him."

Several Washington societies protest the appointment of Major-General Crosby to take care of law enforcement, charging the act robs lawless Washington of its last vestiges of home rule. We offer President Hoover free of charge a suggestion. It may seem novel, as it hasn't been done very often, but here it is: why not appoint a commission to investigate the last vestiges of home rule in Washington?

Well, well! We certainly are surprised. Tom Hefflin didn't get that supreme court job after all.

Auxiliary Initiates Big Class

L. HUGO Keller was the speaker at the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary Monday night at Odd Fellow hall, when 35 members were initiated into the organization. Mr. Keller spoke of the benefits of the Legion and the Auxiliary and what they stand for in a community. He stated that it is not what one gets out of the organization but what one puts into it in the way of helping ex-service men, that makes the organization worth while, and compared the attitude of soldiers toward their "buddies" during the war and ex-soldiers toward their unfortunate brothers during the peace.

It was voted to donate $5 to the Home for Crippled Children at Madison and to give $10 to the M. Louise Wilson Scholarship fund for daughters of ex-service men. The members also decided to make a donation to the American Legion for beautifying Memorial Drive.

A report on the membership drive which is now going on was given by Mrs. A. E. Fisher, chairman. About 25 new members have been secured so far and the drive will continue for another month. The members are divided into groups with their captains and lieutenants. A benefit food sale will be given March 15 at Volz's drug store for the benefit of a widow with six children. Mrs. Louis Lohman will be in charge.

After the business session a social hour was held and cards were played. Prizes were won by Mrs. Fred Heinritz, at schafkopf by Mrs. Paul Schroeder and at dice by Mrs. C. Bogan. Hostesses were Mrs. George Buth, Mrs. L. H. Elser, and Mrs. Clarence Baetz. About 100 members were present at this meeting, which was one of the largest of the year.

PLANE TO BRING SCHOOL GIRL FROM FUR SHIP

Nome, Alaska.—Plucky Marion Swenson may be seeing gay city lights instead of blizzards and the gray vastness of the arctic before she hoped.

She and her father, Captain Olat Swenson, are to fly from his trading ship, the Nanuk, instead of patiently waiting for the ice to break.

Since last June Miss Swenson, Seattle high school student, has been on her father's ship now locked in the ice off Cape North, Siberia. Many weeks of short rations, and hours around an oil stove in the cabin waited her.

Then came aviators searching for Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland, lost flyers. The Nanuk served as a base. Now Marion and her father plan to fly back to civilization on the first plane to leave.

A trip to New York waits as a reward for her help.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

The Story of Sue

by MARGERY HALE
© 1929 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE rest of the group seemed to fade away and Sue knew only that she was looking into Jack's surprised, bewildered eyes. She wanted to cry out to say no, that she would never be engaged to anyone so long as he was present, that she would wait forever and ever. . . . But she didn't.

She nodded slowly and managed a ghost of a smile.

"But . . . but when did it happen?" he asked in the same confused voice.

"That's our secret," Harry told him jovially.

Immediately Jack's manner changed. He was congratulatory and merry and said the usual things, but Sue felt his eyes watching her now and then.

Did it mean that he did care, she wondered? Why, oh why, had she been so foolish?

The rain had stopped entirely and the night had cleared. Ted noticed after a while.

It was decided that the group would move down the road to the cars and get back to the Becker lodge. After all, something had to be done about Sybil.

She found herself going down the muddy road with Harry and could have cried out loud. Sue and Harry . . . Harry and Sue . . . must it always be that way? She wouldn't let it. She would back out before it was too late.

She kept wishing that the car would hurry as they started back up the hill. A few hours before she had been happy . . . and now she had suddenly upset her plans again. Had magic of the dark night life was only monotonous gloom.

She was engaged to Harry . . . what would Sarah think when she heard while before she had told her that it was Jack and always had been? She would know now that it was Harry's money she wanted and maybe . . . a new thought came to her and left her trembling. Maybe Sarah would think that she and Ted were of the same calibre and that he wanted only her fortune.

"Cold, Sue?" Harry asked.

"Everything all right?" It was strange that Ted, self of hers kept talking, how one could go on acting a part even when one's heart was bleeding.

"Jack was pretty much surprised, wasn't he?" Harry asked again. "For a long time I feared I had a rival. I can't understand how I ever won out."

"You didn't?" Sue's heart cried out. "If I had thought there was a chance and if I hadn't been such a fool, I never would have promised."

The ride ended at last and it was discovered that the telephone wires at the lodge were still up. Nancy called the Lester home and asked if anyone could tell her where to reach Sybil.

"Miss Sybil?" the sleepy maid repeated. "She's been in bed asleep for hours."

The mother who faces the problem of providing an adequate wholesome supply of food from limited resources can find no better answer than in the grain products.

Cereals, whose grained or refined, rolled, cracked, granulated, "puffed," "flaked," ready-to-serve or pre-cooked, are offered to the housekeeper in wide variety. This wealth of grain products is not only the most economical food available, but for the great majority of people the most nutritious.

PRICE WAR ENTERS PLANE INDUSTRY; SEE DRASTIC CUTS

Thousands of Dollars Are Slashed from Old Prices of Craft

Special Dispatch to Post-Crescent St. Louis.—(CPA)—The price war, which resulted in wholesale reductions in fares on the nation's airlines, has invaded the aircraft industry, and before the international aircraft exposition closes its doors next Sunday, drastic slashes in the prices of planes and motors are expected by leaders in the aeronautical industry.

The Stinson Aircraft Corporation of Wayne, Mich., started the ball rolling here by introducing a new series of Stinson Junior four-place cabin monoplanes. The new plane will sell at $5,775, as compared to the former price of $10,500 to $12,500 for planes of this series. The Great Lakes Aircraft Corporation of Cleveland had trimmed the price of the two-place trainer biplane, and commander, Inc., of Laid Rock, Ark., also has cut into the former list price of all models of the Commandair biplanes.

The slash in prices was felt in all quarters of the industry, and the bigger organizations immediately called together their officials for conferences on the subject of sales promotion and new prices.

Aircraft in all classes will be at lower prices before the show ends, it is predicted. The trimming is not being limited to any particular model or type of flying equipment, aviation experts contend after surveying the situation in the industry. The Great Lakes Trainer, which formerly sold for $4,500, has been reduced to $3,150 a cut of $1,350 from the old price.

The Commandair sport biplane with a Curtiss-Challenger 150 horsepower engine, has been reduced from $7,500 to $6,000, and the same model in a seaplane has been slashed from $8,450 to $6,550. The Commandair, with the Lycoming 210, which formerly sold for $8,500, has been reduced

Watch Influence Of Japs On New Brazilian Race

Rio de Janeiro.—(AP)—With hundreds of Japanese reaching Brazil each month, their influence on the future Brazilian race is interesting immigration and other authorities. This is because in the past Brazil has been a real melting pot where there are white and Indian, white and Negro, and Negro and Indian crosses in the 40,000,000 population, and because the Japanese do not intermarry to any extent with other races.

Two steamship lines run direct services from Japan and each of these vessels has accommodation for from 600 to more than 1,000 steerage passengers. Recently there arrived here the Buenos Aires Maru, the newest motorship of one of the Japanese companies, whose steerage accommodations of 1,600 have been booked for several voyages.

In the past the majority of the Japanese have been settling in the state of Sao Paulo, but there are two Japanese colonization projects in the Amazon valley one in the state of Para and the other on the Tapajós near the Ford concession. In Sao Paulo the Japanese have taken up their own land for the most part as individuals. Many have embraced Catholicism and use Portuguese names given them at baptism.

The Japanese in the north of Brazil are practically all families, with few bachelors. In the Para district each family receives twenty-five hectares of land (about 60 acres), and 25 families have been settled in the past few months and have kitchen garden flourishing while they clear additional land for cacao and cotton.

By the end of the present year it is expected there will be 250 families on the Para concession.

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR BUTTER, SPEAKER SAYS

Madison.—(AP)—"Butter has no substitute," was the sum of an address by Don Geyer, manager of the Pure Milk association, Chicago, here Monday before the Deere's local of the organization.

"Things sold as substitutes for butter do not begin to have the value as foods that is put for them even though they are cheaper in price per pound," he said. "And if those farmers who now buy and use substitutes would quit that entirely and use dairy butter instead, it would raise the average price of milk about 35 cents a hundred pounds."

BROWNE OFFERS NEW "OLEO" BILL

Measure Would Prohibit Government from Using Product in Institutions

BY RUBY A. BLACK
Post-Crescent Wash. Bureau
Washington—A bill to require the federal government to set an example to the people by using no oleomargarine or other substitute for butter in any of the national home for disabled volunteer soldiers or any army or navy hospitals or charitable institutions supported by Uncle Sam was introduced in the House of Representatives by Edward E. Browne of Waupaca.

It is not fair or just, Representative Browne maintains, for the wealthiest government in the world to compel its disabled soldiers to eat oleomargarine as a substitute for butter, since the food and health-giving value of butter is much higher than that of any butter-substitute.

Yet many if not all of the government homes for disabled soldiers and other government institutions use oleomargarine, Representative Browne says.

Wisconsin, he points out, prohibits the use of butter substitutes in charitable correctional and even penal institutions in the state.

Besides helping those in the government institutions by giving them butter instead of substitutes, Representative Browne's measure would help the dairy farmer by providing a market for his product.

TALKING PICTURES ARE DISCUSSED BY TEACHER

A manuscript entitled "Dumb Show Into Drama" was read by Warren Beck, assistant professor of English at Lawrence college, in a chapel program yesterday morning. The theme of the paper was the new dramatic innovation of talking pictures.

"Patient theatre goers have already had their faith justified in improvements sufficient to justify hope," Beck brought out. Beck attacked the current criticisms of the talking pictures. "To make more money is often good for a form of art that costs much money to create," he said. The speaker showed that true art could be expected only as a rarity in quantity production. The difference existing between the new talking pictures and the novel and stage play were shown. Greater illusory power and more complete continuity of time were some of the advantages of the "talkies" advanced.

"The talking motion picture, like any other art, must develop intuitively and spontaneously in accordance with its own nature," was one of Beck's concluding statements.

ALABAMA BANK FAILS TO OPEN ITS DOORS

Tallahassee, Ala. (AP)—The First National bank of Tallahassee failed to open Monday. A notice was posted on its doors that the board of directors had requested the controller of the currency to have an examiner begin an audit of its accounts.

Steady withdrawals and exhaustion of the legal cash reserve were said to have caused the directors to close the bank. The institution had a capital of $25,000 with a $17,500 surplus.

URGES FUND FOR NEW VETERANS' HOSPITAL

Washington (AP)—Representative Schaefer, Republican, Wisconsin, introduced a bill Monday to authorize expenditure of $300,000 for a hospital of 350 beds at the National home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers, at Milwaukee.

STREET DEPARTMENT BUILDING FINISHED

Only Cement Floor Must Be Laid and Heating System Installed

Construction of the street department building for housing city equipment is completed, with the exception of laying the cement floor and the installation of the heating plant. Although all bills for materials have not been received, the estimated cost of the structure is between $8,200 and $8,500.

The building, 65 by 78 feet, is of concrete block, with the exception of the south end, which is nothing but a frame wall. This section of the shed is of a temporary nature to provide for future extension of the south end. It is planned to construct a second unit later, to be used as a garage for the water department.

After the second unit is completed the old sheds, now being used for storage of such equipment as wheel scrapers, barricades and wheelbarrows, will be torn down and the land used as a public parking ground.

"I feel like

say these 50,539* men and women

*This figure represents the number of Postum users who wrote us within a period of only a few months. We have letters from thousands of other people also in our files.

"I have twice the pep I used to have!"

"Nervous?—I'll say I'm not, any more!"

"No more sleepless nights for me!"

"I've said good-bye to indigestion!"

THESE are some of the things 50,539 men and women wrote to us, after making a thirty-day test of Postum. These people had been troubled with nervousness, sleeplessness, indigestion, and headaches. Then, one by one, they discovered that the cause was—drinks containing caffeine. So they gave up caffeine beverages, and drank Postum, instead.

If your own health is below par, remember that caffeine beverages may be the cause. Send them away from your table! Try Postum for thirty days! You'll feel like a different person, too, before that time is up! Postum contains no caffeine. It is made from roasted whole wheat and bran. Drink Postum plain, or add cream and note the rich brown color. Taste that wonderful flavor! You'll want to keep on drinking Postum, as millions of others are doing!

Postum is very easy to prepare. Your grocer has it in two forms—Instant Postum, made instantly in the cup, and Postum Cereal, the kind you boil. Both cost less than most other meal-time drinks—only one-half cent a cup. Order today. © 1929, G. F. Corp.

LORD BEAVERBROOK ACTS TO FORM NEW PARTY IN BRITAIN
Wants It to Promote Campaign for Empire Free Trade as New Policy

London—(P)—A new British political party was the hope today of Lord Beaverbrook, Canadian peer and newspaper owner, whose campaign for empire free trade has been rejected by the Conservative, Liberal and Labor organizations. Lord Beaverbrook hopes for immediate membership of "a hundred thousand men and women who have enrolled as founder-members of the empire free trade crusade."

"It is useless to look for new wine out of old bottles," Lord Beaverbrook said in a manifesto issued yesterday. "Events of the last few weeks have made it plain that no one of the existing parties is big enough to embrace the doctrine of empire free trade in its entirety," and no one party has been big enough "to find room within its tabernacles for the multitude of men and women of all political parties believing in I and my colleagues believe."

He said that he and his supporters had therefore decided to launch a new party, calling it the United Empire party, since there was no hope in "the old parties, slaves to tradition and impervious to new ideas."

PAPERS WAGE CAMPAIGN
Lord Beaverbrook's newspaper, The Daily Express, assisted by the Daily Mail, have been waging the "Empire Free Trade campaign" for weeks past. Its program has declared for "a sane industrial policy, development of the resources of the empire by British brains, and money for the expansion of British trade and for the increase of British employment."

Meanwhile a possibly significant development has taken place in the ranks of the Labor party where Prime Minister MacDonald yesterday resigned from the Independent Labor party, left wing of the British Labor movement. No reason was stated for the action but a friend of the prime minister said, "the reason must be obvious to everyone."

Relations between the Labor government and its left wing members have been strained for months with the leftist leaders frequently attack ing the parliamentary Labor party and government policies and ministers. The opposition from the left in some cases has been much more pronounced than that from either the Conservative or Liberal benches. It is felt that Mr. MacDonald in the future will seek to apply disciplinary rather than persuasive measure in the governing of his party.

Philatelists to Meet
The Appleton Philatelic society will meet at Conway hotel Tuesday evening. A dinner will precede the program.

THREE MEN SEEKING WATCHMAN POSITION

Three men have filed applications for the job of night watchman at the county courthouse, according to John E. Hantschel, county clerk. The position was created last week when the county board, in session at the courthouse, decided it was necessary to have a man on duty at the building all night. The county board building and grounds committee was given authority to engage a man.

London—Sir Henry Segrave may have his motor-boat speed record taken from him by a woman. It is being rumored that Miss M. B. She has her own ship-building yard at which she is constructing her craft.

U. S. SUIT AGAINST OIL PRODUCERS MAY HAVE WIDE EFFECT

Government Charges Conspiracy to Restrain Interstate Commerce

BY J. C. ROYLE
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
Washington—(AP)—Suits filed by the department of justice against 19 of the main gasoline producers and distributors of California is likely to have a far-reaching effect on the petroleum industry in general and likely to affect prices.

The government charges conspiracy to restrain interstate commerce contrary to the Sherman act by maintaining fixed prices for gasoline. The companies vigorously deny the charge.

It is certain that the case will be bitterly fought to the last ditch. The department asks an injunction preventing the defendant companies from fixing and maintaining fixed and noncompetitive prices.

If this injunction is granted, it may make a decided difference in California gasoline distribution. The government alleges that the companies produce and sell 1,500,000,000 gallons of gasoline a year and control the supplies of Oregon, Washington, part of Mexico and foreign countries. A check on sales on the Pacific coast may send additional gasoline as well as crude oil into Atlantic and mid-western markets.

WANT SALES CHECKED
The producers of crude and gasoline in the midcontinent field which supply the middle west and in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and other states which supply the east complain that the depression in the oil industry is due to the invasions of the California oil. They say that the California producers and refiners can send their products by way of the Panama Canal to Atlantic and gulf ports and distribute it there by rail cheaper than the midwestern producers can by their product in the hands of the consumer in the same territory.

If sales are checked in California, shipments to other markets may be increased. California now is producing almost 150,000 barrels a day more than is consumed there. Efforts have been made to induce producers to hold down production. One method has been the passage of the Gas Wastage law.

There is strong competition in the east over gasoline prices. Incursions of the California refiners would be felt in such markets also.

Texas fields have tremendous production possibilities. So have mid-continent fields but there restriction is strongly enforced. The California crude producers have a voluntary pro rating production agreement but even now production is running nearly 50,000 barrels a day above the agreed totals.

The producers and refiners have been able to do no little toward keeping down production by means of price cuts, but the present suit may give an entirely changed outlook to the restriction situation.

Some see the possibility of a long continued price war in the gasoline

GRADUATES TO TRY TO RAISE FUNDS FOR TRIP IN JUNE

The three students of the Baguer rural school, town of Grand Chute, who are to graduate next June, have begun plans for a series of parties to be staged at the schoolhouse. Through the parties they hope to earn enough money to pay their expenses of $25 each on the commencement trip to Washington, D. C. The three students are John L. Freude, Frances Nagreen and Helen Rogers. The first of their events will be a dancing party Friday night at the schoolhouse. The students are making the arrangements for the affair, assisted by their teacher, Arnold Schultz.

6 PUPILS HAVE GOOD ATTENDANCE RECORDS

Six students of the Whispering Pines Rural school, town of Grand Chute, have perfect attendance records for the first half of the year, according to a report submitted to A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools. Miss Anna H. Williamson is the teacher. The students with the good records are Marie and Robert Wiegand, Carl and P. Uline Kreuger and Russel Cook and May Bergacker. Those with perfect records for the last six weeks are Jennie Keddel, Edward Polzin, Frieda Daniels, Frank Wiegand, Iona Felzer and Charles Daniels and John Kreuger.

Anna Joosten, Ethel Thissen, Mae and Helen Dosticher, students of the Elm Lake rural school, town of Grand Chute, also have perfect attendance records, according to a report received by Mr. Meating. Miss Margaret Kronz is teacher of this school.

POLICE CAMPAIGN BRINGS RESULTS IN WAR ON CRIME

Reduction of 75 Per Cent of Hold-ups Brought About in Chicago

BY OWEN L. SCOTT
Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press
Chicago—(AP)—Hard-boiled police tactics—applied ruthlessly—are bringing results in the local war against handiwork, the most annoying form of Chicago crime.

Ten days of continuous activity by 3,000 unpaid police, the most sustained drive since crime became a major problem, has brought a seventy-five per cent reduction in hold-ups. It also has cleared up about 500 crimes and set 200 men on the road to prison.

Even with this improvement, Commissioner of Police Russell, has ordered squads of detectives and cops to continue to sweep over the streets in search of suspects. Police stations and headquarters are crisscrossed with bad eggs from among the 4,500 who have been picked up. At the same time other cities are complaining that bandits forced out of Chicago by hard times are heading up in their precincts.

Then to add to the discomfiture of the city's disreputables, federal immigration authorities Monday had stepped forward to look over the men arrested in the hope of picking up aliens who might be deported.

At Sunday's police show-up in which 378 men with records were paraded, 1,599 recent bandit victims were on hand. Tickets had to be issued to take care of the crowd in the show-up room and even then about 500 were unable to look over the suspects in the hope of finding the men who had applied the gun to them.

Local taxi-drivers, however, heaved a sigh of relief when they identified the two pretty young blondes who had been making life exciting for them by nightly holdups in which the drivers were forced to disrobe after their money had been taken. The girls then carried away their pants, to prevent pursuit.

In spite of the fact that a large percentage of the pick-ups by the police have been ordinary bums, and that no attempt has been made to go after the big shots in the beer racket, Chicago is applauding the job. Bandits had been over-running the town. Now they are having to apply their trade with discretion.

Ottawa—It should be known as the kingdom of Canada, in the opinion of John S. Ewart, K. C., a constitutional authority. Canada is an independent sovereign state, he told the University club "Empire" and "Commonwealth of nations" as applied to the aggregate British people he regards as inaccurate.

LIONS DIRECTORS TO HOLD MEETING

The board of directors of the Lions club will meet in the Midwest Publishing Company offices at 720 Tuesday evening. It was announced at the noon luncheon at Conway hotel Monday. Monthly reports will be reviewed and business matters transacted.

REGULATION OF NEW YORK TAXIS IS ANTIQUATED

But Cabs Gather More Money There Than All Other Transit Agencies

BY LEMUEL F. PARTON (Copyright, 1930, by Cons. Press)

New York — (CPA)— Monday's New York supreme court ruling on the use of converted pleasure cars for taxicabs prefaces a long legal mix-up, involving major and minor details of the perennial taxicab row in the metropolis, clear down to the snappy chocolate soldier uniform which the police commissioner has ordered for the city taxis.

The 24,000 taxicabs in New York City now gather more money every 24 hours than all other transit agencies in the city combined. While subways, elevated railways and steel railways are public utilities and are all trussed up with regulatory legislation, the regulation of taxicabs is as antiquated as the one-horse hacks which they have supplanted—and this is true in other cities as well as New York.

A driver gets his back license from the captain of his police precinct, who imposes restrictions ordained by a possibly transitory commissioner of police. Politics and charges of favoritism go in, and the $6,000 drivers, having their own ideas about what ought to be done, split into belligerent cliques. The result is a grand muddle.

DRIVERS OPPOSE RULING

The current cold spell and blizzard hit New York just as the drivers were due to put on their new uniforms. The amalgamated taxicab industries and the amalgamated taxicab association revolted and many drivers defiantly donned their old sheep-lined pea jackets. The show-down on the uniforms will not come until March. The right of the commissioner to regulate the dress of citizens will be attacked on constitutional grounds.

Commissioner Whalen's order against converted taxicabs brought a howl of opposition from the independent drivers already having been rescinded by Felix A. Muldoon, second deputy police commissioner, in a ruling in an individual case. It will be adjudicated by Monday's ruling of the supreme court. While the various taxicab interests have established belligerent and colorful newspapers of their own, keeping up a steady bass fellow in the general uproar, it is probable that the more fundamental problems of monopoly and rates will be fought out in the courts.

The two leading companies, each of which has thousands of cars on the streets, are staunchly supporting Commissioner Whalen's policies. The commissioner's problem is not simple.

Restricting the number of cabs and imposing rigid regulations, he meets the charge that monopoly, which goes the charge that manufacturing and operating interests are overlapping, if not identical, and in restraint of free competition. Forbidding the maintenance of lower rates, as he did when he refused permission to the New York fleet for a straight 15 cents per mile rate, he has an airtight argument in his desire to avoid a rate war, and consequent confusion and disorder, but he stirs up another argument as to the throttling of competition by police fiat.

Like the electric light industry, the taxicab business has the problem of a "peak load," in the heavy week-end business. This has been met by part time drivers, carrying on other occupations during the rest of the week.

As the result of all this, New York gets the cheapest taxi service in the country, but traffic jams are such that a serious movement has

Two men and a woman drove off with the car and a mile out of town hurled Lebbert to the pavement while the machine was going at a high speed.

DIRECTOIRE GOWNS HAVE HIGH WAISTS

Long, Flowing Skirts Look
Splendid on the Slim Figure

BY AILEEN LAMONT
Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
New York—(CPA)—Authentic director gowns, with waists under the armpits and long, flowing skirts, may echo the graceful Grecian skirt, as the couturiers declare, and these gowns look splendid on the slim figure, as what does not? But Paris, when she recently went director, omitted to mention why, during the director, such a type of gown came into vogue. Not for the slim, ma'foll! The population of France was depleted by much warfare, and every lady desiring to be popular with the directorate strove to look as if—even if she weren't—oh, well, a word to the pump is sufficient.

For semi-formal evening wear, London ladies are selecting black, one-strap shoes ornamented only by a twinkling button. Made of satin and crepe de chine with smart Louis XV heels, these shoes are a handsome accessory wearable with any semi-formal costume.

London women who buy their clothes in Regent-st are showing a fondness for the black patent leather belt fastened with a big silver buckle. The belt is used with those frocks of fine-texture jersey which help mitigate the London spring, and it emphasizes the high waistline which London has adopted in a big way.

LIEUT. COL. PRELLWITZ RETIREES FROM GUARD

Madison—(CP)—Lieut. Col. Emil G. Prellwitz, "Iron" executive officer of the 12th Infantry, has been retired because of physical unfitness, Adjutant General Ralph M. Immett announced Monday.

Colonel Prellwitz served in the Wisconsin National guard for 25 years and was an outstanding company and battalion commander during the World War, receiving the Croix de Guerre for bravery in action.

Though wounded on several occasions he refused to leave the field at the order of the battalion surgeon and continued to command his organization in the Argonne forest as the only remaining officer.

Col. J. Tracy Hale, Milwaukee, will succeed Colonel Prellwitz.

FOR CATS' SAKE!

Cleveland—Mrs. May McFadden, arraigned before Judge Alva Corbett on a charge of intoxication, was given a jail sentence. "Who's going to take care of my cat if I send me to jail?" Mrs. McFadden wanted to know. The judge solved the problem by giving the cat the same jail sentence as Mrs. McFadden—15 days.

NEW BIOGRAPHIES ON WASHINGTON AVAILABLE

Two new volumes on Washington, the biographies by Rupert Hughes and by Shelby M. Lytle, are available at the public library for persons interested in gathering material for the observance of his birthday on Saturday. Only one Washington book, Schaufert's "Washington," containing poetry and orations for Washington programs, is placed on reserve at the library. A wealth of material, including clippings, pictures, poetry, dramatizations, orations and biography, can be obtained for two weeks.

In the children's department all Washington volumes have been placed in a special rack, and are to be loaned for only one week. These volumes, because of their popularity at this time, are the only books in the children's department restricted to one week's use.

MOTHERS ARE LEARNING USES OF MAGNESIA

From the beginning of expectancy until baby is weaned. That's the time Phillips Milk of Magnesia performs the greatest service for many women.

It relieves the expectant mother's nausea, heartburn, "morning sickness," inclination to vomit, helps her digestion. Its mild but effective laxative action assures regular bowel movement.

Phillips Milk of Magnesia is better than lime water for neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding. A teaspoonful of it does the work of a half pint of lime water. It is a mild laxative; harmless, almost tasteless.

All drug stores have Phillips Milk of Magnesia in generous 25c and 50c bottles. Always insist on the genuine, endorsed by physicians for 50 years.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of the Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875.

Chinese Players Bring Broadway Something New

BY RICHARD LOCKRIDGE

Dramatic Critic of the New York Sun

New York—(CPA)—Bowed down a little under the weight of the explanatory literature which has flowed almost without cessation since it was announced that Mel Lan-Fang, "foremost of the year orchard," would come to New York with his company to present on Broadway plays in the ancient tradition of the Chinese stage—thus bowed down, an audience entered the Forty-ninth-st theatre Sunday evening to witness an advance premier. The first public performance, under the auspices of F. C. Coppicus and a long list of distinguished sponsors, was held last night.

All the conventions of the Chinese theater are interesting—the arbitrary conventionalized scenery, the formalized gestures which have been handed down through generations, the rhythmic to which reverence must be accorded by all on the stage, the short mustaches which "indicate a rude and unrefined person," the duster of horsehair which indicates the utmost refinement unless it happens to be employed in dusting.

SEE GOOD ACTING

If you sweep aside the preoccupation with a method which can hardly concern the casual theatergoer who may spend two hours or so in the company of Mel Lan-Fang, what have you left? What, that is have you left beyond the natural and quite valid, attraction of the exotic in dress and costume and music? You have plays, which will be charmingly explained to you by Miss Soo Yong, and you have some moments of the most exhilarating acting which you are likely to find anywhere, in any tongue, governed by any system of conventions.

That, before the evening is over, you may have had enough of it is no reflection either on the members of Lan-Fang's company or upon you as a member of the audience. Lan-Fang reaches across a barrier of language—and I have not seen any one since Alexander Moissi, the German actor, who reached so far across.

What probably will strike you about the acting of China's greatest player will, once you have accepted and made proper allowance for the obviously exotic, be its amazing universality; its not anticipated familiarity.

You will discover that, with glances and movements of the hands, with the undulating grace of his body and even with the intonations of his voice—once you have learned to differentiate them—he makes you understand most of what he means, although you do not understand one of the sounds that he utters.

Certainly as most of the members of Sunday evening's audience were busily pointing out to one another during the intermission, we have a

WASH CABBAGE HEADS, CONSUMERS ADVISED

Madison—(CP)—Sauerkraut addicts are urged by W. E. Peterson and C. H. Keipper of the college of agriculture to wash heads of cabbage in water before cutting for sauerkraut. Peterson and Keipper said their study of methods to improve the quality of sauerkraut has revealed that the outside of a cabbage head contains from 50,000,000 to 60,000,000 bacteria per ounce.

Kraut made from washed cabbage is "superior in flavor and aroma" than kraut made from unwashed cabbage, they report.

HULL AMENDMENT MAY PUSH PROBE OF CHAIN STORES

Black River Falls Representative Gets $142,540 Appropriation Through

BY RUBY A. BLACK
(Post-Crescent Washington Correspondent)

Washington—Federal legislation in connection with chain stores may come a year or two sooner because a Wisconsin congressman, serving his first term in the House of Representatives, had the temerity to propose an amendment to an appropriation bill in the face of opposition from the Committee on Appropriations.

It is very rare that the House of Representatives overrides the recommendations of the appropriations committee and adopts amendments proposed from the floor. But Representative Martin Hull of Black River Falls got up anyway and proposed to add $142,540 to the appropriation for the Federal Trade Commission to expedite the big investigations of chain stores and power companies and several other less important investigations now being made by the commission at the request of the senate.

After an hour's debate, in which numerous congressmen, both Republican and Democratic, came to the aid of Representative Hull, the appropriations committee, seeing the sentiment in the House in favor of speeding up these investigations, accepted the Hull amendment and it was adopted without dissent.

The senate is expected to approve the increased appropriation, since it was the senate which directed the commission to make the investigations.

If the senate approves, it the Hull amendment cannot be stricken out in conference.

In speaking for his amendment Representative Hull said:

"Two years ago I day an investigation was ordered of the chain-store proposition and it is still far from completion. It is an important matter. All of us who come from the smaller communities especially recognize that this chain system is growing more rapidly in our direction than ever before, and unless the people can find some way of meeting the difficulties it brings, unless we come some way out, the smaller communities are going to suffer to a far greater extent than they have from any other kind of business depression or competition."

STRESS NEED OF FACTS

Every congressman who spoke during the debate emphasized the vital importance to the people of the facts being dug up by the commission in its investigation of power and gas utilities and chain stores.

Dr. Francis Walker, chief economist of the commission pointed out during the hearings that both these investigations will have more beneficial results if the findings of the commission can be reported promptly. Because of lack of staff, the commission had to postpone starting the chain store investigation for nearly a year after it was authorized.

Representative Joseph Burns of Tennessee, ranking Democrat on the appropriations committee, said in supporting the Hull amendment:

"In my judgment there is nothing of greater moment to the people of this country than investigation of the multiplying chain stores which are being established in every line of business all over our country."

The Hull amendment brought the total appropriation for the Federal Trade Commission for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1931, to $1,500,000.

The chain store investigation has cost to date around $102,000 and the power investigation about $276,000.

We Treat Pyorrhea

This is one of the difficult tooth root diseases we are called upon to treat. It is a microscopic germ that finds lodgement between the gums and at a point just below the enamel of the teeth, where the root is soft and unprotected. Our method of treatment soon checks the damage and we are most successful in curbing the disease.

WEATHER HAMPERS AUTO PRODUCTION

Outlook Has Not Improved in Past Week, Survey Indicates

Copyright, 1930, By Cons. Press
Detroit (CPA).—Continued cold weather, blanketing many parts of the country with heavy snow during the greater part of the winter is blamed for the continuance of slackened automobile demand by the manufacturers.

Developments of the week have not improved the production outlook.

Reversion of its spring program by one producer in the medium-priced division has resulted from reports showing further slowing up of new car selling. This company in former seasons has been forewarned with its output, starting earlier and getting through the peak rush before its competitors. It intends to maintain a schedule of approximately 900 cars a day during February, but as things stand now will not go ahead with increases in March as originally scheduled. The action of this maker is likely to be followed by others now proceeding with schedules of lesser volume.

This condition is general among the medium-priced and higher-priced lines. In contrast to it is the upturn in the low-priced car output led by Ford, whose world output is now given at 7,000 cars daily. Other companies are making increases but at a cautious rate.

The returns of last year indicated that low-priced cars gained on the more expensive makes in proportion to cars sold. With economy a large factor for the coming 12 months, there will be still greater gains in store for them.

Talks To Parents

ALL SORTS
By Alice Judson Peale
Michael spent the first years of his life in a city apartment. When he went out it was with mother or nurse. When he played with other children it was with those whom his mother had invited to the house.

When he was six his parents moved to a small town where they lived in a house with a yard and children of every size played and shouted.

At first Michael had a hard life. Time and again he would come rushing into the house, pale with rage and humiliation, and burst into a passion of tears. It took him all of one winter to learn to play with all sorts of children. But he did learn. He learned to play with little ones and big ones, with the nice well brought up ones and with the tough and rowdy ones. He learned to settle his own quarrels and never to ask for sympathy.

To be sure his efforts to keep up with the boys were not without success. He learned to keep up with the boys and his family found him a more useful and obedient child. But Michael had learned one of the most important things in life—the art of getting on with all kinds and conditions of people.

Not every child can be exposed to such a situation with good results and discretion is necessary. Generally speaking, however, nothing is better for a child than to be thrown among all sorts of children during at least a part of his day.

FAMOUS FIRSTS!

Woman Owns Paper Bearing G. O. P. Slate Back In 1880

A small slip of paper, bearing a printed list of candidates endorsed by the Republican party for county and national officers in 1880 is the prized possession of Mrs. Otto Kuehnstedt, 108 S. Lawrence-st. The list names James A. Garfield for president and Chester A. Arthur for vice president. George End and Knud Langland were endorsed for presidential electors at large and district electors were named as follows: first district, Lucius S. Blake; second, John Kellogg; third, George E. Weatherly; fourth, William P. McLaren; fifth, Charles P. Lovell; sixth, Edward L.

Brown; seventh, Frederick H. Krell; and eighth, John T. Kingston. For representative in congress from the sixth district, which includes Oshkosh, Richard Guenther was endorsed while H. C. Sloan was named for member of the assembly from the first district. The following men were endorsed for county offices: sheriff, Peter J. Brull; county clerk, B. C. Wolter; clerk of courts, G. T. McKeskes; county treasurer, Mathias Werner; district attorney, William Kenned; county surveyor, Elhu Spencer and coroner, G. H. Marston.

CROSSROADS OF BROADCASTING IN NEW TRAFFIC JAM

Chicago and New York Stations Continue Fight Between Each Other

BY ROBERT MACK
Copyright 1930, by Cons. Press
Washington—(AP)—Broadcasting's crossroads—New York and Chicago—are all snarled up in new etheral traffic jams.

Stations of these radio hubs embroiled in the tussles, occasioned by the effort to assign a maximum of transmitters to a minimum of channels, are heading straight for the courts with their troubles. The federal radio commission vainly is easting about for a radio engineer qualified and willing to undertake the task of trying to straighten out these and other radio ills. Three engineers are under consideration for the new $10,000 job—Lieut. Commander T. A. M. Craven, Prof. C. M. Jansky and C. J. Jolliffe.

In Chicago, the big fight is between a couple of stations which rank among the leaders of the nation—WLS and WENR. Of course there are other contenders, but just sideshows. New York's main case is an ancient one in radio's brief history, involving stations WNYC, operated by the city of New York and WJVA, a commercial transmitter.

But a tinge of politics has pervaded the New York trouble, and station WJVA, which aspires as a key station of a third proposed national network, has made the fight a three-cornered one.

WLS PUSHES FIGHT
Station WLS, which lost a chunk of its time on the air to WENR by virtue of a decision of the court of appeals, is going into the higher courts with its case, according to Edgar L. Hill, its director and Harry E. Kelly, its lawyer. They told the commission so, in asking that WLS be allowed 20 days additional on its present operating scale of five-sevenths time on the 570 kilocycle channel so that its business operations will not be interfered with by a sudden reduction to one-half time under the court mandate. The court ordered that station WENR be given one-half time on the frequency, instead of the two-sevenths it now uses and in so doing, reversed the decision of the commission.

WJVA, in turn, through its counsel, J. E. Wing, protested to the commission that WLS refuses to operate and will not agree to the fifty-fifty time split. He asked the commission to intervene, but Mr. Hill and Mr. Kelly argued that the court did not specify that the time-sharing was to become effective immediately. They said that about a quarter of million dollars in advertising contracts would be interfered with if the sharing arrangement becomes effective immediately.

TO FILE NEW SUIT
Mr. Kelly said WLS does not intend to submit to the judgment of the court of appeals as final and soon will file a new suit either in the Chicago circuit court of appeals or in the supreme court of the district of Columbia.

In New York, WNYC and WJVA each has sought to broadcast full time by ousting the other from the 570 kilocycle channel which they now share. The third party, WGBS, through an unusual maneuver, recently was given a full-time assignment experimentally on the 600 kilocycle channel—only 30 kilocycles away from the other battling broadcasters, and, it is claimed, is causing cross-talk interference. The recognized minimum separation between stations in the same locality is 50 kilocycles.

And now WJVA and WNYC both contest the assignment to WGBS even on an experimental basis. Not alone do they contend the assignment is ill-advised technically, but that if any New York station is to be favored with full-time, it should go to either one or the other of them, thus settling their own controversy. The case is to be argued before the commission next Thursday. In addition WNYC has appealed to the supreme court from commission's recent decision denying it full time.

Each of the three engineers under consideration for the chief engineer's post is excellently qualified. Commander Craven, attached to the navy is recognized as one of the foremost international radio experts. Prof. Jansky is a consulting engineer who has specialized in broadcasting, while Dr. Jolliffe is in the engineering laboratories of the bureau of standards.

"Ill Health Was Dragging Me Down Fast"

"I Had Been Doctoring for Over A Year When I Learned About Dreco."

"I have the highest praise for Dreco. It relieved me of suffering when I was about ready to give up all hopes of ever getting well again. I was losing weight fast. My nerves were very bad and I was no longer able to get any rest at night. Oftimes I would walk the floor at night trying to get some relief from indigestion. Gas used to press up around my heart that made it beat and thump like an old pump. "Dreco soon scored in my case and soon I was taking on the weight I had lost. My stomach is lots better and I am at last able to get some rest at night. I am rapidly improving now and all this praise goes to the new medicine, Dreco." This statement was given by Mr. August Besuch, 726 West Wilmabago St., Appleton, Wis.

Aldermen Thought Final Authority Rested With Railroad Commission

The commission mission stated that the commission had no jurisdiction in the matter, and that the approval of the council was all that was necessary to clear the way for the removal of the vice. However, the council has the obligation to reconsider its decision at his next meeting.

No other matters of great importance are scheduled for the Wednesday night meetings.

No. 9

For example, if the gross sales were $50,000, the cost of goods sold $35,000, and the business expenses, etc., $12,000, the statutory gross income as $13,000 and the net income as $3,000. In this case, if the taxpayer was married and living with his wife, he would be required to file a return, although his net income is under $3,000. The return must show the gross sales, purchases, and cost of goods sold. To reflect income correctly, inventories are necessary at the beginning and end of each taxable year.

Rouen—(F)—Although not on the sea, this city ranks first among French ports of entry because most of the country's imports of coal, gasoline and oil come through here. Last year the city handled 9,456,000 tons of freight.

After starting the Kohnstien treatment, he believed that he had come over night, but he did not come over night, but gradually the pain became less and less severe. Now, after taking Kohnstien over a few weeks, every ache and pain has disappeared and he feels that he has more life than he does.

CHICAGO ANGRY, BUT IT DOES NOT WANT CLOSED CITY

Citizens Are Roused to Action, However, by Recent Outrages

EDITOR'S NOTE: (The Chicagoan today is angry. He is prepared to smother the forces which have given the city a bad name, but at the same time he opposes a closed city. He is a citizen of a free country. He is a citizen of a city of amazing contrasts. Owen L. Scott points out in the last of his stories on life in Chicago.)

BY OWEN L. SCOTT
Copyright, 1936, by Cons. Press
Chicago —(AP)—The Chicagoan today is on the verge of another spasm of righteous indignation. He is mad and his anger may yet give him a more peaceful city. Twice in the last three years the Chicago citizen has risen in his might and smashed the system which he thought included a book-up between crime and politics. But now bigger and better bombs are booming and the sight of eight persons shot down on the city streets, in seven days is too much for his nerves.

So he is looking for somebody to smother again and this time with the aid of Big Business. It may appear strange to outsiders, but nevertheless it is true that many of Chicago's most influential business and industrial leaders in the past have supported the very politicians suspected by the public of underworld connections.

Many Chicagoans even look with suspicion on the "rescue committee" of prominent citizens, organized to help get the city out of the financial mire. Maybe without reason, they suspect that public interest alone may not insure their solicitude. It is because of this suspicion that "Big Bill" Thompson, the mayor, is trying to make political hay before his day in the sun, is done.

But pampered, organized crime—imbued in the profits of the illicit liquor business—may seal its own doom by its very brazenness. Underworld powers made a bad mistake when they ordered gunmen to shoot Philip H. Meagher, local builder and member of the Chicago association of commerce. That pistol slugs struck near home and Big Business is concerned.

THREAT RINGS TRUE
Just before that shot, the powerful association of commerce, had elected a fighter to be its president—Col. Robert Isham Randolph, soldier and civil engineer. He threatens to smash Chicago's criminal system, regardless of cost and to the ordinary citizens his threat has a clearer ring than any of those made before by politicians.

Chicagoans are waiting for the time next week when Colonel Randolph will announce the plan of his secret committee of six "men of courage," for dealing with the local situation. If, as expected it calls for some sort of vigilante organization of a hundred or more young men of known courage and honesty, who can strike at crime with a sledge hammer the town will applaud.

It shows little excitement over the present police drive to round up criminals. So far almost all of the 3,000 pickups have been small fry in the crime puddle, or plain, garden variety bums. When some big shots come rolling in, identified as a "Bugs" Moran, an Aiello, a Nitti, a Jack McGurn or any of a hundred other well-known underworld characters—and then land with a dull thud behind the bars, Chicago will be ready with cheers.

OPPOSES CLOSED CITY
Yet with all of its ready revolt and indignation, Chicago wants nothing like a closed town. "Big Bill" Thompson still gets a cheer when he directs his blasts at "yellow livered reformers." Professional reform always has struck this town cold. It never has elected a known dry as mayor. Three years ago the citizens crucified politically, William E.

Dever, an honest and capable mayor and a wet, who had found it necessary to enforce the dry law when he learned that gangs were attempting to corrupt his entire police force. Chicago is happiest under some one of the stripes of Old Carter Harrison, who served five terms as mayor and then gave a son who served five more terms. He supplied honest service and kept down crimes of violence, but believed that human nature could not be reformed altogether by laws. Chicagoans enjoyed a rather full measure of personal liberty and yet walked their streets in safety.

The world has difficulty understanding Chicago and its soul, because of the unique local problems. Two thirds of the citizens of this metropolis are either foreign born or of foreign-born parentage. In addition there are 250,000 negroes. It is a city of amazing contrasts. The badlands, Hell's Half acre, the desolate "Back o' the Yards" and depressing "Valley" where criminals thrive, are but a jump from the most magnificent civic developments to be found any place in the world. Chicago has a daring conception of her future and has spent half a billion dollars to give that conception reality. She will spend another half billion when again she trusts her public servants.

More than anything else today, Chicago needs a state constitutional convention—and yet the Chicagoan is so possessed by an obsession for reform that the permanent committee charged with suggesting such a convention, hesitates to suggest it. So the city continues to operate under the domination of rural Illinois and under an antiquated system of government, ideally arranged to give the minimum of service at the maximum cost. Chicagoans have something of a helpless feeling in meeting their present crime problem, because their revolts in the past have borne little fruit. But short of sponsoring professional reform, they want today to smother somebody for letting a few cheap criminals besmirch the city's name.

She Lost 19 Pounds of Fat In 27 Days

During October a woman in Montana wrote — "My first bottle of Kruschen Salts lasted almost 4 weeks and during that time I lost 19 pounds of fat—Kruschen is all you claim for it—I feel better than I have for years."

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast. Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat." — Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gasses are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts are carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that tingling feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

If you want to lose fat with speed get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts from Schlitz Bros. 3 Stores or any live drugist anywhere in America with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.

JUNIOR ORCHESTRA PLAYS CONCERT ON THURSDAY EVENING

Program Will Be Presented at 8 O'clock at College Chapel

The Lawrence Conservatory of Music will present the Conservatory Junior orchestra, with Percy Fullinwider, conductor, at Lawrence Memorial Chapel at 8 o'clock Thursday evening. Soloists will be Hazel Glee, Two Rivers; Jack Sampson, Chippewa Falls; Agnes Snel, Ft. Atkinson, and James Sensenbrenner, Neenah, with Ramona Huesemann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Huesemann, 1109 E. North St., assisting at the piano. Twenty-two Appleton high school students, who are enrolled for courses at the Conservatory, and ten college students make up the personnel of the organization, while the studios of Percy Fullinwider, Professor of violin, E. C. Moore, professor of instrumental supervision, and Marion Miller, instructor in violin, are represented in the instrumentation of the group.

This almost complete orchestra of student musicians, under the direction of Professor Fullinwider, is possible because the theory, that regular ensemble playing to supplement actual lessons is essential to musical development in the field of orchestra instruments, dictates Conservatory policy. All students enrolled for private or class instruction in strings, woodwinds, brasses or tympani are given this supplementary orchestral training as a part of the course.

The following students of the Appleton public and parochial schools will appear in the debut concert, Thursday evening: Eloise Smolzer, Fred Marshall, Eugene Bleick, Jerome Watts, Karl Cast, Carlton Schneider, Jimmie Gmeiner, Carlton Kuck, Arthur Zuchke, Esther Thyrion, Ella Haertel, Dorothy Wallace, Doris Toll, Arthur Ventur, Lucille Wachmann, Jack Hahner, Walter Wright, Norbert Franz, Winona Bartlein, and Carolyn Boettcher.

College students to appear in the group are: Merton Zarr, Appleton; Margaret Hendy, Neenah; Jane Copenull, Virginia, Minn.; Agnes Snel, Ft. Atkinson; Marion N. Mann and Evelyn Walsh, both Oshkosh; Dorothy Simpson, Menasha; Joan Hall, Milwaukee; John Paul Jones, Portage; Margreta Koehler, Melford; and Jack Sampson, Chippewa Falls.

If all the outlying possessions of the United States, exclusive of Alaska, could be combined into a single area, it would be less than that of the state of Montana.

Vikings Humble Ripon Cagers In Thrilling Game

Two Hockey Games On Jones Park Rink Tonight

CONTINUE SCORING SPREE AND DOWN CRIMSON, 32 TO 23

Blues Take Early Lead, See It Tied, Then Step Out and Cop Victory

BY GORDON R. MCINTYRE
Shades of former basketball teams at Lawrence college, teams that staged some of the most thrilling games ever played in the old armory chased each other over and around the new Alexander gymnasium Monday evening as Ripon and Lawrence college basketball teams battled to a 32 and 23 victory for the Vikings. Those Vikings were somewhat the same team that walloped Knox Saturday evening when they started against the Crimson, and with the Ripon five fighting its hardest as it always does against Lawrence, the capacity crowd witnessed the battle of battles.

Lawrence took the lead with a couple points late in the first half, while the crowd was in an uproar as the second half opened. And just to make proceeding more interesting Johnson, Ripon forward, caged a goal and then another to put his team ahead by a mere point.

The Viking crowd was becoming panicky about that time and Acting Captain Bud Pierce called time out so the Vikes might get back on their feet. Ripon's lead was 1-0 when the game was resumed. Bigger was Lawrence five back in the lead with a field goal and was followed by Pierce, who during his evening's toil, tossed a couple baskets that reminded one very much of Pete Briese and Eddie Kotal a few years back.

Once out in front the Vikings scored a respectable lead and then battled down to an easy victory. The Lawrence defense which had functioned so well in the early part of the game seemed to fizzle out during the last couple minutes especially after Laird was sent in to replace Schneller who left the floor tagged with four personal fouls. Laird was "cold" when he went into the game and failed to work well with the fast traveling Vikings or to keep pace with the Crimson.

But that didn't matter much for the Vikings played a stalling and back passing game as the watch ticked away the last few minutes and although they had some of the folks hysterical as they permitted Ripon to try for field goals, things went home happy.

The fast play that featured the game brought about plenty of roughness most of which could not be helped. Schneller of Lawrence and Martin of Ripon both were requested to discontinue by the official scorer as they registered four personal fouls. Bud Pierce took the court and came up with another patch while Zerkus sustained a cut above the eye that necessitated a stitch, and Schneller picked up a cracked rib. All in all the Vikings won't be in such good physical condition for that encounter at Waukesha Wednesday night.

Schneller and Bigger were the high scorers for the Vikings, each getting in a number of points, although Schneller had a more field goal. Remmel's fight and plaudits of the crowd while the work of Pierce and Fischl at guard, especially the latter who had the mean job of watching, Martin, is best shown by the score.

For Ripon, Red Martin was the star although Johnson counted more heavily in the scoring column. Martin, with his natural basketball knowledge directed the team on the floor and had he not moved himself to points of advantage and numerous times halted the Viking attack, the score would have been much larger.

Badger Immortals

Big John Richards

BY GEORGE F. DOWNER
BIG JOHN Richards belongs with the immortals of University of Wisconsin athletics—whatever be the standards by which their names are chosen.

He won more letters than any other Badger, had a longer active connection with Wisconsin athletics than any other man and played a great part in establishing many of the Badgers' most cherished traditions.

John R. Richards was a member of the class of 1896, played on five Wisconsin football teams, from 1892 to 1896, inclusive, captained the teams of '95 and '96 ran the hurdles as a member of the track team of 1893 to 1897, and was a regular member of the 1894 varsity crew. So far as I know, he is the only man who ever won eleven major "W's" at Wisconsin.

Richards returned to coach the varsity football team of 1911, resigned after the season, and became head coach again in 1917 and later came back to direct the destinies of the Badger eleven of 1919, 1920, 1921, and 1922.

John Richards had a number of qualities, priceless in an athlete. He was a born competitor, a determined fighter with a wonderful vital spark, dynamic energy, a mind keen to analyze the fundamentals of a game and dogged persistence in the pursuit of his aim.

Big John's flaming temper was a by-word, yet in the grand old days when football was a knock-down-and-dragout game and when his aggressiveness made him a shining mark, he was never ruled out of a game. In the Minnesota game of 1896—a hand-to-hand fight for 90 minutes—the Gophers' center trio roughed him through half the encounter.

Early in the second half, Big John, after a punt and Richards, seeing both officials racing down, backed to him, under the punt, swung his right to Fulton's jaw right out in the open, flattening the Gopher at full length, ten feet away.

In those days, a football player had to take punishment. The game consisted of two 45 minute halves and once a player was taken out, he could not return to the game. John Richards went through five years of that kind of football, rarely playing less than the full game, and was never taken out for an injury.

GREAT FULLBACK
He was a splendid line plunger and the first fullback in the country to use the hurdle as a regular tactic for short gains. After his first year, he played at about 185 pounds. He was terrifically fast in getting started and ran with a driving, high-knee action, which made him a mighty hard man to stop.

Although not of the typical hulking build, Richards made a good hurdler of himself by sheer drive and persistence, his body being heavy and his legs relatively short. Off the mark, he was one of the fastest men, for 8 to 10 yards, that I have ever seen. He was western champion in the highs in 1896 and 1897, his best time being 13.45.

Space will not permit detailed reference to Richards' career as a player. He was a letter as a substitute and in 1892, then for four years was Wisconsin's regular fullback. There was no three-year rule in those days and Big John took a year in the law school after graduating on the hill subsequently being admitted to the bar. In 1894 he made both the track team and crew, training daily with each—and losing 20 pounds in two months.

Football in those days was quite informal. Players bought their own equipment and in 1892 there was no regular coach. Parke Davis of Princeton, subsequently to become known as the historian and statistician of the game was Wisconsin's first full-time coach, in 1893. Incidentally, Davis was registered as a graduate student and played tackle on the team.

The next year, H. O. Stickney, a former Harvard tackle, became coach and Wisconsin went through the season undefeated, except for a game forfeited to Purdue when the Badgers refused to continue the game after their captain and quarterback, Lyman, was ruled off for alleged slugging. The '94 team was the first to defeat Minnesota.

Dismissal all but wrecked Richards' first team, in 1895, the Badgers losing to both Chicago and Minnesota in loose games. In 1896, Richards, who had been re-elected captain, determined to get the best available coach in the country and his choice was Phil King, Princeton's All-American quarterback.

King laid the foundations of real football at Wisconsin and is still regarded by the old timers as one of the greatest coaches of all time. The Wisconsin eleven of 1896 was undefeated its greatest victory being over Minnesota, by a score of 6 to 0. Richards made the touch-down.

LIVES ON COAST
Following his graduation, Richards went into school work, coaching his school teams more or less as a recreation, for fourteen years. During that period his eleven rarely lost a game.

Big John's coaching at Wisconsin is recent enough to need no explanation. He never won a championship but no Wisconsin team of his was ever badly beaten. Rival coaches conceded that, as a defensive coach, John had no superior. Because he believed in simple formations, he was seldom given his due as an offensive coach—but the teams that faced Wisconsin were not among those who derided his offense. There was always a punch in Big John's attack—both as an individual and as a coach. He had no superior as a forward pass strategist and in his way, few teams equaled his forward pass defense.

Since his retirement from coaching, Richards has lived in Los Angeles where he has been active in business and civic affairs. He participated in the promotion of a highly successful fire insurance company, of which he is now vice president, and he has a hand in many other important enterprises. The energy and aggressiveness which made him a great athlete and a great football coach have won him a figure of importance in the financial world of Southern California.

Big John and Mrs. Richards are spending the present winter in Spain and on the Italian Riviera.

This is the first of a series of articles by George F. Downer, director of the University of Wisconsin Sports News Bureau, on old time Wisconsin athletes. The second one, on Pat O'Dea, famous Kangaroo Kicker, will appear in the Post-Crescent, Thursday.

LIVES ON COAST
Following his graduation, Richards went into school work, coaching his school teams more or less as a recreation, for fourteen years. During that period his eleven rarely lost a game.

Big John's coaching at Wisconsin is recent enough to need no explanation. He never won a championship but no Wisconsin team of his was ever badly beaten. Rival coaches conceded that, as a defensive coach, John had no superior. Because he believed in simple formations, he was seldom given his due as an offensive coach—but the teams that faced Wisconsin were not among those who derided his offense. There was always a punch in Big John's attack—both as an individual and as a coach. He had no superior as a forward pass strategist and in his way, few teams equaled his forward pass defense.

Since his retirement from coaching, Richards has lived in Los Angeles where he has been active in business and civic affairs. He participated in the promotion of a highly successful fire insurance company, of which he is now vice president, and he has a hand in many other important enterprises. The energy and aggressiveness which made him a great athlete and a great football coach have won him a figure of importance in the financial world of Southern California.

Big John and Mrs. Richards are spending the present winter in Spain and on the Italian Riviera.

This is the first of a series of articles by George F. Downer, director of the University of Wisconsin Sports News Bureau, on old time Wisconsin athletes. The second one, on Pat O'Dea, famous Kangaroo Kicker, will appear in the Post-Crescent, Thursday.

THOMAS UNMATCHED FOR WINDUP BOUT ON AMATEUR CARD

Andy Durr Takes Milwaukee Date and Now Vets Seek Another Fighter

BECAUSE Andy Durr, Milwaukee, picked as an opponent for Windy Thomas in the windup bout of Thursday's American legion amateur card will headline a group of bouts at Milwaukee, Wednesday night, legion promoters now are seeking an opponent for the New London flash. And that is no easy task because of Thomas' ability and reputation.

The promoters are on the trail of several good boys, however and have Charlie Higgins, Milwaukee, scouring the highways and byways in the southern part of the state. Higgins would delight in getting someone to trim Thomas and no doubt he'll look hard.

Indications are the semi-windup will be as good a bout as any on the card. It will show Hans Ahl, Oshkosh, versus, Leo Schneider, one of Fred Saddy's boys down at the Eagles at Milwaukee. Both chaps are clever, fast and can hit, which presages a real fight when they crawl into the ring.

Bob English, Lawrence college student, has been matched with a Green Bay youth named Leo Champagne. The Bay boy is considered a real corner and is expected to force English to the limit. English made his local debut last month.

Bob Billington, Neenah, and Roy Durkay, Fond du Lac, are another duo who will do battle. They are middleweights who have shown well in all their last bouts.

Another of the six bouts will show Joe Bieble from Oshkosh and Willard Munnell of Milwaukee. The two boys will come in weighing 120 pounds and are expected to put up one of the best slam-bang affairs ever staged here. They probably will fight the second bout on the card.

The curtain raiser opponents have not yet been picked. The vets are hoping to get another member of the Lawrence college team but will be in the dark until Coach Clarence H. Rasmussen gets back from a trip to Milwaukee.

Indications are a large crowd will greet the battles Thursday, probably a crowd as great as the one which jammed the armory last month. Tickets are being sold at the usual places and there will be plenty other duets at the box office.

VIKING WRESTLERS COP FROM RIPON

Win in Every Division During Bouts Held Monday Afternoon at Gym

Lawrence college wrestling team cleaned up in every division in a wrestling meet with Ripon college Monday afternoon, the first of three athletic events yesterday in which Viking teams met Crimson squads.

Babcock of Lawrence, 115 pounder, was awarded a 1-48 second advantage over Haughey of Ripon. Engstrom, Lawrence, 125 pounder, won a fall in the first period from Radcent, Ripon, the time being 5-12 minutes, and then took a second fall, in one minute.

In the 155 pound class, Northrup, Lawrence, won a fall from Smith, Ripon, in 4:19; Schier, Lawrence 145 pounder won a fall from Mangen, Ripon, in 7:22 and Lund, 155 pounder, won a fall from Steinman, Ripon, in 1:53.

Captain Wayne Vincent of the Vikes, battling as a 165 pounder, won a fall from Loftus in 2:39; and in the 175 pound class Amundson of Lawrence won a fall from Wagner, Ripon, in the second period in 3:38. In the heavyweight class Jake Hovde won a fall from Amundson of Ripon in 5:14.

Coach Clarence H. Rasmussen directs the wrestling squad.

New Orleans—W. L. O'Young, Striking, Macon, Ga., knocked out Joe Dacko, Toledo, O., (S).

Appleton Youth Swims 150 Feet Under Water

ALTHOUGH Lawrence college sports authorities apparently thought so little of the feat they failed to mention it to college and local sport series who, despite the usual opinion do not view all sports events. Lawrence college seems to have a veritable "human fish" among the boys daily swimming at New Alexander gymnasium.

A few days ago an Appleton chap named George Stewart, 1113 W. Eighth, swam under water twice the length of the Lawrence pool or a total of 150 yards. The feat is one which deserves considerable mention and should be featured as the lead attraction of the Lawrence sports series.

Some Milwaukee sport fan who saw the trick accomplished sat down and jotted a letter to Manning Vaughn of the Milwaukee Journal sport staff. And as it tells the story pretty well even to the point of punning the Post-Crescent sports scribe it follows:

"While in Appleton recently I attended the Lawrence-Carlton basketball game in the new gymnasium and although the game itself did not prove to be a very interesting one we were treated to an exhibition in

KAUKAUNA BOXER IS VICTOR AT GREEN BAY

Green Bay—(AP)—Harold Cotter, Kaukauna, whipped Walter Whittman, De Pere, in the windup bout on the Columbus club's amateur boxing card here last night. The fight at 145 pounds, went three rounds with Cotter getting the decision. Cotter put up a fine exhibition, while Whittman showed remarkable ability to take punishment.

In the semi-windup, Al Keyser, De Pere, won from Norbert Lefevre, Green Bay, in three rounds. Six bouts were on the program, mostly between local fighters.

NORTHWESTERN "5" DOWNS MINNESOTA; ILLINI DOWNS OHIO

Evanston Cagers Regain Shooting Eyes to Run Up 47 and 17 Score

CHICAGO—(AP)—Sharpshooting eyes of the Northwestern basketball team apparently have returned—but too late to do any big Ten championship business.

Northwestern, with Captain Rut Walter, Bert Riel and Bob Lockhart collecting 16 field goals, last night broke a losing streak which had extended to three games, by smothering Minnesota, 47 to 17, at Evanston. Everything Northwestern did was good for points, while the Gophers were unable to get started. It was Northwestern's fifth victory in nine starts, and its second of the season over Minnesota.

Illinois moved into undisputed possession of second place by scoring its second victory over Ohio State 29 to 16. Ohio State failed to display the form that almost downed Purdue last week while the Illini, led by Ernie Kemp who scored five field goals, went at top speed.

MADISON KEGLERS MAKE PRESENCE FELT AT OSHKOSH

Five Changes in Standings Noted After Monday's cores

Oshkosh —(P)—Madison bowlers made their presence felt in the state tournament here Monday, being responsible for two changes in the doubles, two in the singles and one in the all-events leaders.

The most important change of the day occurred in the singles when J. Bossart took second place with 675, just six pins below P. Schultz of Milwaukee, who leads with 681. Bossart had three nice 300 games, the second of which was 235.

The other change to occur in the singles was when Tony Schwoegler, Madison, after rolling 615 with his team, and 625 in the doubles, took sixth place in the singles with 654. Ending up with that high 654 enables Schwoegler to go into second place in the all-events with 1594.

In the doubles W. Hoffman and R. Hamann with 1225 and T. Schwoegler and J. Hackett with 1224, took seventh and sixth places respectively. Both are from Madison.

SIX CHANGES IN RACINE STANDINGS

Green Bay, Milwaukee, Antigo, Madison Women Set New Marks

Racine —(P)—Six changes were rung up Monday in regular events of the state women's bowling tournament here, Green Bay, Milwaukee, Antigo and Madison entries sharing in the honors.

C. Kasper and H. Zenz of Green Bay went into first place in the doubles with 938, while another Bay team, A. Adams and M. Massee with 977, tied for third.

In the singles L. Winter of Antigo took the leadership with a 562 on games of 265, 170 and 137. C. Adams of Milwaukee moved into third place with 549. One of her games was a 224, the best of the day.

The Arcade Five of Madison, on a late shift took third place in the team event with 2362 on games of 751, 779 and 832. E. Longfield did the spectacular rolling with 549 via games of 152, 179 and 218.

Benton, Roush Will Be Traded If They Don't Sign

BY JOHN B. FOSTER
Copyright, 1930

NEW YORK—The New York National league baseball club is not particularly concerned whether Larry Benton, pitcher, or Eddie Roush, outfielder, sign their contracts for 1930. Both were under the baseball weather in 1929 and if they do not sign at the salaries that have been offered, they may be sent elsewhere.

Benton will take both of them. The Braves can use all of the pitching prospects that can be had, and Roush would steady and outfield which at present contains only one star, Lance Richbourg. And he is unlucky.

New York will come to terms with Freddie Lindstrom because the team needs him and Lindstrom cannot afford to be idle for a year. Bill Terry has just signed.

The Brooklyn club will get the most thorough shaking up in 1930 that it has had in six years. The

DOC DELMORE QUILTS PLAYING BASEBALL

Two Rivers —(P)—Dr. A. V. Delmore, Marquette university football star in 1915 and 1916 and since a well-known Wisconsin professional baseball player, yesterday announced his retirement as an active player in the Two Rivers Mirrors of the state league.

He started playing catch for the Superior, Northern league team at the age of 17, and later caught for various state league teams, including the Koschusko Reds, in 1917. He has been playing first base for the locals and has been batting well over .200. He will continue as assistant to Manager Ty Lober.

NEW GOLF CLUB IS ANGLING FOR H. SMITH

New York —(P)—Horton Smith, spectacular shotmaker from Joplin, Mo., may become golf pro at the new Cragston Yacht and Country club now under construction on the J. Pierpont Morgan estate near West Point. Reports are current that directors of the club have been negotiating with Smith for some time.

A QUESTION of HONOR by Ruth Cross

Chapter 3
A STUDENT OF MEN
DOOR opened and Mrs. Wilmot, alone in the great living room, glanced up.

"Anne!" Mrs. Wilmot cried, and the quavering, nasal tone carried the horror she felt at the sight her niece presented.

Anne, tired, blousy, with wind-blown hair, a sun-burned unpowdered nose, was hardly recognizable as she leaned against the door frame. Her high boots were spattered with mud and her skirt and sweater disheveled.

She straightened with a jerk at her aunt's exclamation and started wearily towards the stairs.

"Anne, where have you been?" the older woman asked.

Anne let herself back limply against the balustrade. "I've merely been taking a walk, Auntie," she replied in her best off-hand tone.

"A walk—?" her aunt echoed.

"For heaven's sake, take yourself out of sight!"

But it was too late. Morse and Douglas came out of the study. Morse already had caught sight of Anne, and he came up quickly, frowning with intense disapproval as he took in her sorry plight. Douglas lingered a little behind him, smiling.

"I thought I asked you not to go into the mountains alone," Morse began, controlling his anger with effort.

Anne nodded. "I believe you did," she confirmed, in her most inconsequential manner.

"There are still a few wild animals," Morse went on, "and, as I was just telling your aunt, the whole country is overrun with the irrigation company's workmen and our own—"

Anne was watching him steadily, curiously. Twin devils of perversity and reckless mirth looked out of her eyes.

"Oh," she murmured with the merest suggestion of an upward tilt to her head, "I'm not afraid of the animals or the men either. Besides—I dare say I'm the only one around here who hasn't learned to take orders yet!"

With a light laugh, she turned and went up the stairs, leaving a trail of muddy footprints behind her.

Mrs. Wilmot gasped—almost audibly. A hushed silence ensued. Douglas, still taking in the scene from the sidelines, watched his employer's angry, crimson face, and smiled as he walked away.

It was no part of Robert Douglas' plan to see his employer married to a clever woman.

Twenty minutes later, a vastly different Anne emerged from the saffron and ivory bathroom which connected with both her bedroom and boudoir.

She stood a moment while Delphine adjusted the sash to a clinging, deeply befringed negligee and added a pat here, a finishing touch there to an exquisite coiffure, then stepped into the bedroom.

Her aunt sat grimly erect on the edge of a fragile gold and ivory chair knitting. Anne passed her and flung herself wearily full length on a chaise longue—also ivory and gold—piled high with luxurious pillows.

There was a prolonged silence. Anne lay thankfully inert, with closed eyes.

Abruptly the older woman put down her work, smoothed it implacably across her knee.

"Anne," she said in a quiet, deceptively mellow tone, "are you quite mad?"

The girl roused with a start from her reverie. "I beg your pardon, Auntie—"

The question was repeated—more caustically, Anne considered thoughtfully for some moments, then, covering a yawn with the back of her hand, "No—no, not if you mean about Leon Morse. I know exactly how he must be handled—it at all."

Her aunt crinkled cryptically.

"Just you leave him to me, Auntie," the girl went on, clasping her hands behind her head. "I've been studying this game a good many years—Leon Morse prizes nothing that he can't have to conquer first—a railroad through the clouds or a woman—it's all one. Even his money wouldn't mean anything to him if he hadn't wrestled it at the point of a bayonet from some less ruthless fellow creature."

"If I submit tamely to his domineering, he'll lose interest. That's where most women fail, they don't realize the necessity of appealing to a man's imagination!"

"Anne, don't be coarse!"

"My dear Auntie—the young woman lifted her eyebrows amusedly; her mouth twisted in a wry smile. "If I didn't put things into ordinary, piebald words now and then, how would we ever understand one another at all? I think it's pretty fortunate that one of us knows how to call a spade a spade. And so far as Leon Morse is concerned the best thing you can do is to trust me."

Her aunt's throaty murmur was packed with meaning. "That's what I've been doing these years—dressing you—and this is all that's come of it!" She took the morning's mail from bag and tossed it near Anne.

Anne picked the letters up with a rather bored air, opened two or three and glanced idly through them.

She crumpled the papers in her hand, covering another yawn and pushed them aside. "I've seen these bills—several times before—they don't interest me particularly."

"Well, I have an idea they will," the older woman said grimly. "While you've dawdled and nifted all these years, I've spent every cent that I could possibly get hold of on you, and now—"

"Anne, you mean, don't you—Aunt Emily?" Anne interpolated quietly.

The line about the grandmotherly old mouth tautened. "Well, anyway, you've got to make it good. If you dillydally around and let Leon Morse slip through your fingers as you've let many another good chance, we are absolutely ruined—can't even go back to New York."

"Drive, Miss Auntie," Anne leaned over and patted the plump, unresponsive arm lightly. "But," she added more seriously, "you're omitting that I would have married any one of a half-dozen, Phil King or Andrew Morton or—even Jim Dacres, though, heaven knows, he was bad enough. But you always thought I could do better—perhaps you didn't put it so crudely—"

"I certainly did not," Mrs. Wilmot corroborated with asperity, "and—you have done better. There's not a girl in New York who wouldn't envy your chance with Leon Morse—and you may as well understand if you lose him, that any of your airs, coyness and impudence I'm through with you. You can try making your own living for a change, if Leon Morse's millions are not good enough for you!"

(Copyright, Ruth Cross.)

Anne bows to the seemingly inevitable and Morse decides to fight for his right of way, tomorrow.

Kaukauna News

Rural Normal Students Get Actual Experience

Kaukauna—O. H. Pienke, assistant state superintendent of rural schools, was at the Outagamie Rural Normal school last week where he conducted the regular annual school inspection. Walter P. Hagman is principal of the school.

At present the students, who number about 50, are receiving actual experience through a system introduced into the school by Principal Hagman a few years ago. Each student is given several weeks of practice, which has been found to be of great value.

A rural school is secured and students are sent there to conduct classes. The school used now is the Little Chute rural school. Miss Agnes Egan is the teacher. Each day six student teachers are sent to the school to conduct classes, three in the morning and three in the afternoon. This is done until each student has received practice. This is repeated until the students become accustomed to actual teaching.

Last year the student teachers each spent two weeks at the Oak Grove country school. The system has been so successful that it is being used every year and other country normal schools in the state are beginning to use the system. The regular program also gives the student teachers classes to conduct under the supervision of the faculty. Several grades of the Park school conduct their classes at the Rural school.

RADIO INDUSTRY IS GOING AHEAD SMOOTHLY AGAIN

Three Segments, Programs, Manufacturing and Regulation Are United

BY ROBERT MACK
Copyright, 1930, by Coas. Press
Washington—Programs, manufacturing and regulation—the three segments of endeavor which unite to make radio what it is, are coming along hand in hand once again in their comparative effort to reach the ultimate in broadcasting.

The solid offensive picks up again after one of the three components of the clique was left in the lurch almost hopelessly, and only now is remaining some of the ground it lost. Manufacturing, the basic industry was the delinquent member, particularly because of its own folly, by permitting overproduction to creep up on it, but mainly because of the stock market collapse which effected drastically all semi-luxury buying.

The broadcasters have been doing their part by incessant program improvement, centered around the two great national chains. New heights in program features are reached almost weekly, with capital expenditures no object. It must be so, because, if there are no programs of merit, people will not buy sets, and there would be no industry.

SMOOTH ROUGH SPOTS

In the best way it can, the federal radio commission—the regulatory factor—is clearing up broadcasting conditions and knocking the rough spots off it. It is now in process of revamping some 50 station assignments with the hope that much lamentable cross-talk interference will be eliminated. The commission's job is fundamental in radio's swirl to public acclaim because if the station assignments are muddled, with howls and squawks permeating the ether because of failure to observe sound engineering laws, then broadcasting's whole structure would collapse.

People would not listen. They would not care to tune in on a babel of heterodynes. Stations would not exceed their funds for program development, because the advertisers, who really pay the radio bill, realizing the loss of listener appeal, would not use the radio as an advertising medium. In the final analysis, the industry would crumble, for there would be no market for receiving sets.

Now in the throes of the most drastic period of transition in its brief but spectacular history, receiving set manufacturers claim they are regaining their business composure.

From the industry comes the encouraging word that the 1,500,000 sets of distress-merchandise left over from 1929, largely have been liquidated, and that production has been curtailed to meet the reasonable prospective demand.

At the end of the year the radio industry was in a bad way. It still is hobbling along—the better off, however, for the lesson it has learned. Just before the stock market crash the capacity of the receiving set industry was some 15,000,000 sets annually, whereas normal demand is about 3,500,000 sets. Over-production is disappearing with stabilizing of the industry.

WORK TOGETHER TO HOLD LEADERSHIP IN DAIRY CIRCLES

Such Is Advice Offered to Farmers by State Farm Supervisor

BY W. F. WINSEY
If Wisconsin is to maintain the high position in the dairy world, jealousy must cease and all hands must join and fight together. Holstein breeders, individual farmers, corporations, county and state institutions can maintain Wisconsin's position in this field by working together to attain a common end under a slogan of unity, according to Glen M. Hauschold, farm supervisor of Wisconsin board of control.

Just a few years ago, when the state institution herds were made up largely of inbred grades and many undesirable purebreds, there was a great deal of talk heard at meetings about the disgraced situation which prevailed regarding the lack of good herd management on the state-owned places, says Mr. Hauschold.

"All agreed that the state should maintain the best in all branches of livestock and should keep its herds at a high point of efficiency, both for production and type," he said. "The legislature recognized the merits of this contention and passed a resolution asking closer cooperation between the management of the state institutional farms and the College of Agriculture."

"Acting in accordance with this inspiration, the Wisconsin board of control placed the farms under a central management and proceeded to cull out unprofitable and extremely poor typed animals, to cast about and secure, at reasonable prices, proven lines of the best Wisconsin family lines of Holsteins and to inaugurate a system of practical testing which makes known to the public the production records of every cow in the state owned herd."

"Now that the state owned herds have taken their place among the good breeding establishments of Holstein cattle in Wisconsin, the board of control believes firmly that if the program is to go on, the best of our cattle must be exhibited with those of other good breeders at county, district and state fairs, where the tax paying public will have opportunity to inspect the work in the state herds and to compare these herds with those of the best breeders in the land. Comparison, contact and competition with the best of the breed is necessary to bring out the points of weakness which need to be guarded against."

"The suggestion has been advanced that the state should merely display cattle for ribbons, leaving the premium money to be gobbled up by a small clique of professional exhibitors, who in most cases have slight standing as breeders. The management of state farms cannot comply with such a request, as the farms are operated on a business basis and every show must pay the expenses of the exhibits through the winnings."

"The question that this small clique of exhibitors has raised relative to this state showing its cattle brings up the question of just why the county, district and state fairs are supported by direct appropriations of public money. The justification for such appropriations is that these fairs contribute to the economic betterment of the state by encouraging better production of crops and cattle."

"It is no secret that there is a close union of a few professional exhibitors, who wish to exclude the state from competition in order that they may run in unfettered, long haired, inferior animals and grab off the premium money, while showing the public little or nothing in the way of superior animals which should be held up as ideals to all breeders."

MAIL COURTSHIP

London—A long-distance courtship by mail has finally joined Ethel Whitehead to Louis Glick, a Canadian farmer. She started corresponding with him on the advice of a friend and the regard for each other grew until he proposed to her by mail. She has gone to Canada to help him on his farm.
